EMPLOYMENT INSURANCE IS EXPLORED

Dominion-Provincial Conference at Ottawa Names Constitutional Committee

DIVISION OF COSTS PROBLEM

Committee Also Goes to Work on Details of Unemployment Relief

Ottawa, Jan. 18.—Constitutional and unemployment relief sub-committees were set up by the Dominion-Provincial Conference this forenoon. The first body is under the chairmanship of Hon. W. H. Price, Attorney-General of Ontario. The second is presided over by Premier J. E. Brownlee, of Alberta.

Both sub-committees were called to meet this afternoon, the sitting of the constitutional sub-committee to open at 2:30 o'clock, and the unemployment relief body a little later.

When the delegates went into session this morning they grappled with the subject originally scheduled as the one of most importance—unemployment insurance. Although many of the provinces are understood to be in general agreement with any scheme that will add greater security to the livelihood of the workers, it was anticipated that some difficulty would be encountered on the matter of division of costs.

WILL ABOLISH IMPORT LEVIES

Capetown, South Africa, Jan. 18.—Special import duties comprising the 5 per cent port and 2 and 1½ per cent surtax which were imposed last year are to be abolished, according to the government newspaper, Die Burger.

Die Burger adds the government will continue to pay export subsidies, the revenue for which will presumably be derived from the government's share in the gold premium. Subsidies were hitherto paid from the duties which it is now proposed to abolish.

MANY BODIES FOUND AFTER SHIP DISASTER

Shanghai, Jan. 18.—Chinese newspapers to-day said reports that 300 Chinese were lost when the coastal steamer Hsin Ning-tai foundered Sunday in Hangchow Bay were confirmed.

Dispatches said the steamer had sunk during a storm and that scores of corpses had been washed ashore.

U.S. Ambassador Requests Japanese Minister For Investigation Into Raid on Singer Sewing Machine Company's Branch

Tokio, Jan. 18.—Joseph C. Grew, United States Ambassador, visited Foreign Minister Uchida to-day and requested an immediate investigation of the raid on the Singer Sewing Machine Company's branch in Yokohama.

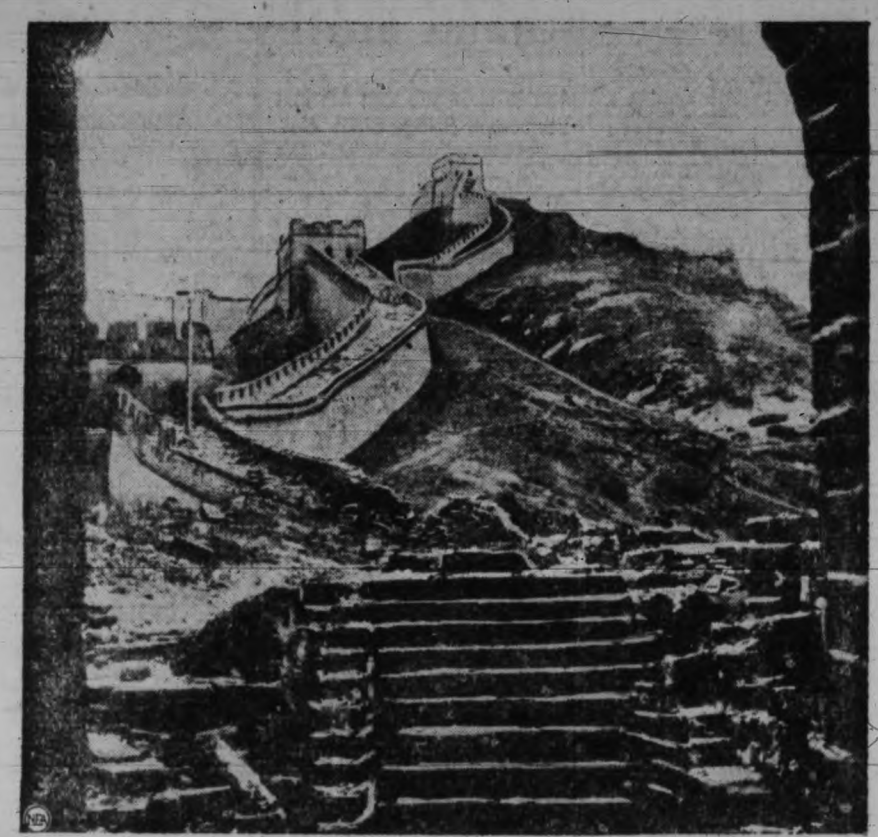

He also requested adequate police protection for American lives and property in the future.

SCHOOLS TO DROP MANUAL TRAINING

North Vancouver, Jan. 18.—An identification line-up held at police headquarters to-day failed to involve a suspect arrested in connection with the Mount View beer parlor hold-up of last Saturday evening.

Two other men were arrested as suspects and the trio will have additional line-ups in connection with recent beer parlor holdups.

Ancient Chinese Landmark Draws Attention as League Committee Meets in Geneva

Beside China's forty-centuries-old Great Wall modern guns have blazed and a threat of a spread of the Japanese-Chinese hostilities in Jehol province, between the wall and Manchuria, is seen as the League of Nations Committee of nineteen meets in Geneva in an effort to establish permanent peace in the Orient. The picture above, taken through an arch of one of the towers, gives an impression of a section of the Great Wall.

SALARY SCALE UNDER REVIEW

School Board Faces Difficult Budget Problem At Meeting To-night

Faced with the problem of eliminating more than $30,000 from its expenditures if the school rate is to be fixed at the same level as last year, the Victoria School Board will hold a special meeting on estimates this evening.

The increase on the expenditure side is due to the forthcoming reduction in grants for salaries of teachers. While this is offset to the extent of about $2,000 in lower debt charges, it leaves almost a mill extra to find on the present basis.

It was generally forecast that the local salary scale for teachers will be withdrawn and payment of the whole salaries will be resumed.

ROBBERY SUSPECT FREED BY POLICE

Vancouver, Jan. 18.—An identification line-up held at police headquarters to-day failed to involve a suspect arrested in connection with the Mount View beer parlor hold-up of last Saturday evening.

SCHOOLS TO DROP MANUAL TRAINING

North Vancouver, Jan. 18.—Manual training in the public schools here will be discontinued January 31.

C. E. Tisdall, commissioner, to-day stated he was taking this action in view of the present economic situation. A manual training teacher cost the municipality $1397 per school year, he said.

The School Act permits municipalities to include manual training in the school curriculum or not, as they desire.

Attacking Attorney-General of Manitoba, He Tells Commissioner at Winnipeg Any Man Making Such Complaints "Fit Subject For Lunatic Asylum"

Winnipeg, Jan. 18.—Branding "any man who could conceive such a complaint" as a "fit subject for a lunatic asylum" and bitterly attacking the Dominion Government for "stabbing me in the back," County Judge Lewis St. George Stubbs to-day began a scathing tirade of judicial misconduct charges made against him.

"I have charged and do charge this commission is a political conspiracy against me," the judge declared heatedly. "If malice didn't ooze out of every pore of the anatomy of the Attorney-General I don't know what did."

Standing in the witness box before the federal commissioner investigating the charges sponsored by Hon. W. J. Major, Attorney-General of Manitoba, the accused jurist pounded on the marble rail to emphasize his indignation.

He had been charged by Mr. Major with "excessive abuse of authority" regarding issuance of attachments for garnishee orders, but the witness declared that "garnishee before a fair judgment was like execution before judgment."

The reason he was charged with this, he said, was because he had been trying to draw attention of the public to "this vicious thing" in talks to various organizations.

It was a compliment, he held, for prisoners to express preference for trial before him and he declared it was merely a preference for a trial "before a humanitarian judge instead of a legal sadist."

EXPECT SNOW HERE SHORTLY

Downfall May Follow Unsettled Weather Caused By Storm Off Washington

A low barometer and conditions generally unsettled by a widespread storm centered off the coast of Washington brought prospects of snow to Victoria to-day, F. Napier Denison of the Gonzales Hill Observatory said.

Temperatures were fairly low. The minimum in the standard screen during the very early morning was thirty-two, while on the grass at the hill-top the mercury fell another five points. At 11 o'clock this morning it had gone up to thirty-four.

The extent of the storm off Washington reached from northern California to Prince Rupert, the weatherman stated. Its centre was moving south and causing unsettled conditions here. Yesterday evening it gave rise to a moderately high wind from the southeast and was exerting such an influence on the weather that storm signals were still up to-day.

Light snow fell in Vancouver yesterday evening, Mr. Denison noted, adding Victoria was fortunate in not having had a downfall in the city so far.

CANADA-RUSSIA WHEAT DEAL IS PROPOSED

New York, Jan. 18.—Sources close to the Amtorg Trading Corporation, Soviet Russia commercial representative in the United States, to-day said negotiations regarding a rumored 20,000,000-bushel wheat deal with Canada were in merely the "conversational" stage.

No contract, it was said, had been closed, and it was indicated some time might elapse before such a transaction might take tangible form, if ever.

Trade Pacts Are Scored By Bank

Canberra, Australia, Jan. 18.—Because of the powerful Bank of New South Wales has publicly condemned the Ottawa trade conference as being disadvantageous to Australia, the Commonwealth government has threatened privately-organized banks with nationalization if they do not refrain from political propaganda.

NEW ZEALAND CABINET SPLIT

Hon. W. D. Stewart Resigns; Other Members May Follow His Example, It Is Stated

Farmers Want Exchange Rates Raised to Meet Foreign Competition

Wellington, N.Z., Jan. 18.—Hon. W. Donnie Stewart, Minister of Finance, has resigned his office and a cabinet crisis is threatened.

Difference of opinion with the remainder of the cabinet on the question of exchange rates and the establishment of a central bank are said to have brought about Mr. Stewart's resignation and it is considered possible other members may follow his example.

There was some hope Mr. Stewart could be persuaded to continue in office, but he remained adamant in his decision. While it is possible city members of the cabinet may follow Mr. Stewart, there is a general belief the government, headed by Rt. Hon. G. W. Forbes, will be able to carry on.

At a conference of farming interests yesterday a resolution was passed advocating raising of exchange rates to a level where Australian and Argentine competition could be met.

The House of Representatives will reconvene January 26. During the Christmas recess, the cabinet worked at balancing the budget. The fall in the price level of agricultural products has been given much attention, and also the question of reduction of interest rates.

The Premier favors reducing interest rates to 3½ per cent, and is understood to be formulating a bill to establish a central bank.

What stand Mr. Stewart has taken on these questions has not been revealed.

Prominent Bootlegger Killed in Hollywood; Two Others Shot Were Associates

Eastern Gangsters Said to Be Fighting to Control Film Colony's Rum Supply

Hollywood, Calif., Jan. 18.—Three mysterious slayings early to-day sent police squads into action to prevent further bloodshed in what they said was an attempt of eastern gangsters to control the film colony's liquor supply.

Only one of the bodies has been identified—that of Harry Meager, said by police to be a leading bootlegger in Hollywood.

Meager and one of the unidentified men were in the former's automobile when it was shot to pieces by light post after several shots were fired.

THREE HELD AFTER ATTACK

Winnipeg Boxer Tells Police He Was Stabbed and Shot at Winnipeg, Jan. 18.—Alleged to have attempted to murder Laurie Peppin, well-known local professional boxer, during a daring gun attack and knife affray which took place in his suite, three gangster suspects, all recent arrivals in the city, were held without bail to-day by police pending investigation.

The trio, one with an eye said to have been blackened in the tussle with the boxer, were arraigned in police court and remanded until Thursday.

Names of the suspects are Dan Anderson, alias Sanderson; Harry James Powell and Henry Willshire, alias James Oilmour.

A woman, whose name was being withheld, also was in custody to-day as a material witness.

The men are said to have demanded entrance to Peppin's suite and there consumed a few drinks. Police say the three men leaped on Peppin and stabbed him twice with a long-bladed knife. Physicians say the boxer was not seriously injured.

Neighbors rushed to the apartment and ejected the trouble-makers. But the three men returned and one is reported to have fired a revolver at Peppin, who was lying on a bed. The bullet went wild and the boxer slammed the door. A final shot was fired through the door before the man departed.

WILL PRESENT RELIEF PLEA

Civic Authorities and Unemployed to Meet Government To-morrow

Arrangements were made this morning for the relief committee of the City Council, joining with an unemployed delegation, to interview the sub-committee of the provincial cabinet on relief to-morrow morning.

The meeting will take place at 11 o'clock in the office of Hon. S. L. Howe, Provincial Secretary.

The interview is the outcome of the meeting between the city's relief committee and the unemployed yesterday afternoon, when the civic authorities agreed to support the requests of the unemployed for an increase in the relief allowance.

Canadians Like Good Programmes

Survey of Radio Tastes Reveals United States Listeners Want Comedians While Canadians Prefer High-class Music

Variety, the well-known paper of the theatre, has just finished a survey of the radio field to determine which are the most popular programmes. It finds that in the United States the most popular performers are Eddie Cantor, Ed. Wynn and Jack Pearl (Bartley Murchausen).

In Canada, it declares, the three best liked are the New York Philharmonic, the Philadelphia Symphony and the Metropolitan Opera.

The New Republic, independent weekly of New York City, in commenting on these findings, observes that the two lists must show something but adds that on the whole it had better be left to a Canadian to say just what.

DISCUSS PLAN FOR COALITION

Capetown, S.A., Jan. 18.—It is understood General Jan C. Smuts will meet Tielman Roos to-morrow with a view to renewing negotiations working toward the formation of a coalition party to be pitted against Hertzog Government when the parliament of South Africa meets on Friday.

JAPAN HAS BIG ROUND-UP

Tokio, Jan. 18.—Removing a publication ban, Japanese authorities to-day announced the details of a country-wide roundup of 2,000 radicals. The arrests were made in October, following discovery of widespread Communist activities aiming at eventual overthrow of the existing social system.

Police raided one radical meeting and arrested eleven persons after an encounter in which four policemen were wounded.

It also announced to-day 7,000 radicals in all were arrested in Tokio during last year, most of them educated youngsters in their early twenties. These included girls, many of whom belonged to wealthy families.

Local Wheat May Win World Honors At Regina Show

Exhibit By W. D. Michell of Keating Gains High Praise

Provincial Seed Show Opened To-day at Crystal Garden

Possibility that W. D. Michell of Keating may bring to Victoria the honor of producing the finest soft wheat in the world, loomed this morning at the British Columbia Seed Fair at the Crystal Garden, which to-day opened its doors to the public. The fair, which is described by the judges as the best-balanced exhibition of seeds and bulbs ever held in this province, will be formally opened this evening at 8 o'clock by Lieutenant-Governor J. W. Fordham Johnson and will be open day and evening until Saturday night.

The exhibition presents a surprising review of the progress made by agriculture in this province during the last ten years, many exhibits, such as the displays of soy beans, being unknown to commercial production in British Columbia five years ago.

AT WORLD FAIR

The prize-winning entries in most of the classes will be exhibited at the World's Grain Fair to be held in Regina this summer. Agriculturists will obtain a good idea of the keen competition for the best wheat in the world.

League Will Drop Invitations to U.S. and Russia to Share in Conciliation If Japanese Agree All Other Conditions of Committee

Firm Action If Suggestion Fails

China Welcomes News New U.S. Government Will Insist on Sanctity of Treaties

Canadian Press and Associated Press

Geneva, Jan. 18.—The League of Nations conciliation committee of nineteen decided to-day to make another effort at conciliation in the Japanese-Chinese dispute before advancing to procedure regardless of Japanese opposition.

The committee authorized its chairman to suggest the committee would accept the Japanese demand not to invite the United States and Russia to participate in the process of conciliation, if the Japanese on their part would withdraw other objections to the committee's formula.

Then the committee adjourned until Friday to give the Japanese delegates time to ask instructions from Tokio. The sentiment of the committee was described as in favor of abandoning conciliation unless Japan should be disposed to accept the compromise suggestion.

ATTITUDE OF U.S.

Washington, Jan. 18.—President-Elect Franklin D. Roosevelt's assurance that his incoming administration in the United States would adhere to the principle of the sanctity of treaties will not alter Japan's fixed policies in Manchuria, a government spokesman at Tokio has announced according to news dispatches received here.

China, however, received the Roosevelt statement with great satisfaction as an approval of the Hoover policy in the Far East.

A Japanese newspaper in Dairen published an assertion that the city of Shanhaikwan, captured by the Japanese rule of Manchukuo as the result of a two weeks ago, already was under the movement sponsored by the Peace and Order League organized by residents of the city, said dispatches received here.

A Washington dispatch yesterday evening said that the growing rift between Japan and China in the Jehol region might spread south of the Great Wall of China and involve extensive foreign interests was causing increasing uneasiness in Washington official circles.

WOMEN ROBBERS USE TORTURE

Chicago, Jan. 18.—Two women burglars who tortured their housewife victim by burning the soles of her feet with lighted matches until she revealed the hiding place of her money—$10—were reported to the police.

The victim was Mrs. Rose Schmalzer, twenty-two. The attack to-day was made while her husband was at work in a bakery.

IRELAND MAY FACE IMPASSE

Free State Deadlock After Election Latest Forecast; Weather Checks Candidates

Dublin, Irish Free State, Jan. 18.—Political prophets to-day began forecasting a stalemate in the Irish Free State general election January 24, while friends of former President W. L. Cosgrave said there were indications the country was ready for a change of government.

Bitterly cold weather prevailed throughout the country, reducing attendance at outdoor political rallies, bringing discomfort to President Eamon de Valera, and Mr. Cosgrave in their hasty-tours of electoral districts and confining some lesser political lights to their homes with colds and hoarseness.

Remonetization Of Silver Is Advocated

Bills Before Committee of United States House of Representatives For Study

Associated Press
Washington, Jan. 18.—The weight of another chairman of a powerful House committee has been thrown behind the drive in Congress for currency expansion by monetization of silver. Representative H. B. Steagall of Alabama, Democrat, who guides the banking committee, is sponsoring the new bill. It is drafted along lines similar to those proposed by Representative Somers, Democrat, New York, who is chairman of the coinage committee. Steagall had expected his committee to begin hearings on his silver bill shortly, but it was sent to the group Somers heads. Somers asserted he was required to begin an open study of all silver bills—including his and Steagall's—within two weeks.

Somers already has asked fifty leading bankers, economists and monetary experts what they think of his proposal to create an auxiliary reserve of silver. Some have replied and some have said they would like to appear before the coinage committee when it begins hearings.

PURCHASE OF BULLION
Those men who appear will be asked to discuss the Steagall proposal, which would authorize the Secretary of the Treasury to purchase silver bullion on the open market at the current market price.

This silver would be paid for by silver certificates, and the Steagall bill would declare these legal tender for the payment of taxes and all debts.

After the Steagall bill became law, the Treasury Secretary would be required to purchase $250,000,000 worth of silver bullion, the quantity depending on the market price.

Thereafter, in monthly instalments, the Treasury would purchase the entire silver production of the United States, Alaska and the Philippines.

SEES MAJORITY
While silver advocates were developing their campaign, proponents of currency expansion on the monetary reforms already available continued to push their campaign. Representative Busby, Democrat, Mississippi, author of a proposal under which a $3,000,000 expansion would be possible in about 150 days, predicted that while he had not had time to make a man-to-man poll, he had made a survey that convinced him "my bill would pass by a two-thirds majority if we could bring it to a vote."

JAPAN'S COURSE IS CONDEMNED

Tientsin, China, Jan. 18.—Gen. Yu Hsueh-chiang, commander of Chinese troops in the Tientsin area, yesterday condemned Japan's continued aggression toward China, but denied reports he had dared the Nipponese to declare war.

Recalling a recent interview, Gen. Yu informed the Associated Press he had stated that "it would be better if Japan would declare war on China and clarify the situation instead of occupying Chinese territory under a pretext of declaring it a localization policy."

Leper Treated In Toronto Hospital

Canadian Press

JUDGE TOLD OF RELIEF FRAUDS

Sturgeon Falls, Ont., Jan. 18.—"The worst frauds in the administration of relief moneys in Sturgeon Falls are in the payments of rentals and for shelter," declared W. H. Williams, K.C., counsel for the royal commission now investigating relief disbursements here. He intimated he might "have to call most of the landlords in town to explain irregularities."

He asked R. H. Bourassa, grocer, who Mr. Bourassa's landlord was. "Mrs. S. Vannier," replied the witness.

Learning she was a large property owner, L. Spence, government investigator, looked up Mrs. Vannier's name in the rent book.

He discovered one of her tenants whose rent was paid by the town was "S. Vannier."

"That's her husband," Mr. Bourassa told Judge J. M. Hall, who is conducting the inquiry.

"Does she live with him?" asked Mr. Williams.

"She did," the witness replied. "He died last spring."

The tenant in another house of Mrs. Vannier is her son, Rod, and his rent also has been paid by the town, according to evidence.

Relief vouchers, stamped plainly "Not to be exchanged for cash," were freely exchanged for money in Sturgeon Falls, where "a wink was as good as a nod to a blind horse," declared Sam Bois, town treasurer.

Town employees were given the relief vouchers and promptly exchanged them for money, Bois said. He had often paid grocery bills or other accounts with the relief vouchers and "the vouchers were used like cash anywhere in town," he said.

Marshall, Ill., Jan. 18 (Associated Press).—Hubert C. Moore, Robinson, Ill., school teacher convicted here last Saturday of murder for the killing of his wife, was sentenced yesterday to die in the electric chair at Chester, February 25.

U.S. RECEIVES FEW IMMIGRANTS

Associated Press
Washington, Jan. 18.—The immigration bureau of the Labor Department reported today that 2,006 immigrants were admitted to the United States during November, a decrease of 30.8 per cent, under the corresponding month a year ago.

During the five months from July to November, the report said, immigration dropped 89 per cent below the average of 107,738 for the corresponding months of the preceding seven years, 1925-1931. During the five-month period 12,321 immigrants were admitted.

BURGLARS BUSY WHEN LIGHTS OFF

Associated Press
Beloit, Wis., Jan. 18.—There is, Beloit officials say, a definite relation between electric lights and crime waves. As an economy move, the council ordered street lights turned off at 11 p.m. in outlying residential districts. Dousing the lights was expected to save $2,200 annually. The first night burglars broke into twenty homes and garages. The residents complained so much the council ordered the lights turned on again.

W. Phillips May Be Given U.S. Post

Associated Press
Washington, Jan. 18.—Into the speculation as to appointments in the next United States administration have been thrust rumors naming William Phillips of North Beverly, Mass., as likely to get a State Department or diplomatic post.

He served as Ambassador to Belgium and as Minister to Canada and to the Netherlands.

Some gossip has had him in line to be Secretary of State.

LONDON PRISONER ENDS HIS LIFE

Associated Press
London, Jan. 18.—Efforts of physicians and nurses to save the life of Samuel James Furnace in order that he might face trial for the murder of his friend, Walter Spatchett, failed yesterday when the prisoner-patient died in the St. Pancras Hospital from self-administered poison.

Furnace swallowed the poison in his prison cell after he had been captured in his London hideaway—a Southend boarding house, where he had spent most of his time reading detective stories.

GEORGIA ANGRY AT FUGITIVE

Legislature Resolves Robert E. Burns Defamed His State in Chain Gang Movie

Meanwhile, Communist Prisoner Tells Court of "Inhuman" Treatment

Associated Press
Atlanta, Ga., Jan. 18.—A resolution charging Robert Elliott Burns, self-publicized fugitive from a Georgia chain gang, who wrote a book on chain gang conditions in this state, from which a motion picture was made, "did collaborate with, plot, design and collude" with movie interests "to defame and bring reproach on the name of a great people" was unanimously adopted yesterday by the Georgia House of Representatives.

ATLANTA TRIAL

Atlanta, Ga., Jan. 18.—The state of Georgia is asking a death sentence for Angelo Herndon, Cincinnati, negro Communist, on a charge of intent to incite insurrection. The prisoner's answer in court yesterday was: "Do with me as you will, there are thousands more to take my place."

The trial, unique in the annals of Georgia jurisprudence, reached a dramatic climax when Herndon, in an unsworn statement, said capitalists used "racial prejudice as a means of exploiting workmen—white and black."

Herndon said he had been arrested without cause and treated "inhumanly" in the Fulton County Jail. His imprisonment was a "nightmare," he said, and for a time he was forced to live in a cell with a corpse.

PHILIPPINES BILL PASSED

Associated Press
Washington, Jan. 18.—The United States Congress yesterday enacted the Philippines Independent Bill over President Hoover's veto, and cast the issue into another phase of uncertainty arising from the Island Legislature's attitude toward the measure.

For the Island lawmakers must approve the bill before it becomes effective, and indications from Manila are that strong and determined opposition may be expected from the faction that wants immediate and unrestricted freedom, as contrasted with the ten-year transitional period provided by the bill passed yesterday.

A rush of the Senate votes served to sweep aside President Hoover's vigorous and repeated objections. The bill was re-passed in the upper chamber by a vote of 66 to 26, five more than the necessary two-thirds. The House voted 274 to 94 last week to set aside the President's veto and make the bill law.

Under the act, when the Island Legislature takes affirmative action, the islands must then elect delegates to a convention to draw up a constitution acceptable to the President of the United States, which probably will require two years or more.

Then ten years of economic and political trial would begin, during which time immigration and free imports from the islands to the United States would be reduced.

Complete withdrawal of United States sovereignty would follow on July 4, immediately after expiration of the ten-year transition period.

ATTACK ON HOOVER FAILS

Associated Press
Washington, Jan. 18.—The United States House of Representatives for the second time this session brusquely swept aside to-day a new effort of Representative McFadden, Republican of Pennsylvania, to impeach President Hoover.

McFadden picked up three votes from the last test, but saw his resolution tabled by an overwhelming majority without his even being permitted to speak for an hour as he intended.

The resolution, declaring Mr. Hoover guilty of "high crimes and misdemeanors" that merited impeachment, was tabled by noisy House after a roll call vote of 342 to 11. It contained the same charges as were embodied in the original resolution which met the same fate in December by a vote of 361 to 8.

NO FURTHER PAY CUTS
Ottawa, Jan. 18 (Canadian Press).—No reduction in the pay of the personnel of the Royal Canadian Mounted Police is contemplated and, beyond the 10 per cent reduction for officers of that corps which became effective nine months ago, no cut has been made in the pay of any members of the force, according to Major-General J. H. MacBrien, commissioner of the R.C.M.P., who commented on rumors.

1933 McLAUGHLIN-BUICKS ARE HERE

WELL-KNOWN EIGHTS HAVE NEW BODY LINES AND MANY IMPROVEMENTS

McLaughlin-Buicks for 1933 are introduced to the public today, with low, graceful body lines, a new ventilating system, and many special appointments designed for Canadian conditions. The model shown is the close-coupled special sedan with built-in trunk, on the 135-inch wheelbase. In the lower panels the picture on the left shows details of the Fisher No-Draft ventilation. The right-hand picture gives an idea of the tapered tail, covering the gas tank. Centre picture shows starting button and one of the aeroplane type dials of the instrument panel.

THE LEAGUE ABOUT TO MEET AN ACID TEST

Within the next twenty-four hours the world will probably know what the League of Nations proposes to do about the trouble between China and Japan. Latest advices from Geneva indicate that the Committee of Nineteen has been encouraged to take a firmer stand toward Japan by reason of the affirmation of President-elect Roosevelt that he is behind President Hoover in the determination to uphold the inviolability of all treaties. The government has announced that it will not recognize Japanese authority over Chinese territory occupied in defiance of the various undertakings to which the United States and Japan are parties.

We are told that representatives of several nations belonging to the League are nervous about the possibility of Japan withdrawing from the organization if it should take steps to restrain her in Manchuria or show any other mark of its disapproval of the course she has taken. The League is bound by the covenant to take notice of any breach of its provisions. It knew in the fall of 1931 that Japan had broken its pledge. It appointed a commission headed by a distinguished British statesman, Lord Lytton, which reported its findings and placed the blame squarely on Japan. Japan figuratively tore up the report and called it nonsense. The League is now trying to discover a formula that will end the conflict between the two Oriental nations. Whatever it proposes, it is suggested Japan will disagree with it, and then promptly resign from the League. Two points occur in this regard. Having agreed that Japan has violated her pledge and treaty obligations, the League either must invoke the provisions of the covenant, or admit that as an agency for the prevention of war it is impotent.

For many months now Japan has inundated the world with a propaganda intended to convince the general public that she transported thousands of sailors and soldiers, with all the latest death-dealing contrivances, to Chinese territory merely in self-defence. And a fair sample of this propaganda is contained in a statement which Mr. Yosuka Matsuo, Japan's envoy at Geneva, gave recently to Lady Drummond-Hay, a well-known British journalist, and in which he said:

The Boxer rising of 1900 will be child's play compared to what is inevitable if China continues in her present state of anarchy. The anti-foreign feeling incessantly increases, infecting more and more of China's 450,000,000, as communication and contact facilitate spread of propaganda. You don't know what you are letting yourselves in for. We in Japan do. That is why we want to inspire and educate Manchuria in high, humanitarian and spiritual principles. We hope that Manchuria will be a beacon to Asia.

This is a distorted picture. Within the last few years China has made extraordinary progress toward really stable government as well as in industry. At the present time her securities are worth much more than Japanese securities. A vast amount of machinery is continually going into the country, technical education now forms a very important part of the government's plans to bring Chinese commercial and social life nearer to the standard of western countries.

There are naturally many irresponsible elements in a population of 470,000,000; but it is for the Chinese themselves to deal with them, as they have been doing. Europeans who have lived in the country for many years, who have seen that great Oriental giant awake from many centuries of slumber, do not understand the impatience manifested in some quarters because a stable government has not been established before this. The marvel of it is that China has done so well in so short a space of time, for what, after all, is ten years, or even fifty years, in the life of a great nation? In any event, Mr. Matsuo's picture of widespread anarchy, of a China as the arch-villain of the Sino-Jap conflict, does not fit in at all with realities. Incidentally, high civilization is not usually impressed upon people by bombs and bullets.

WE WOULD PREFER THE VOLUME OF THREE YEARS AGO

Based on returns covering the last few days of last year, the Trade and Commerce Department at Ottawa estimates that the total value of the exports for the year 1932 will reach $498,301,000 and the imports $455,877,000, leaving a balance in this country's favor of $42,424,000. The Canadian Press dispatch containing this information says the government, particularly the Prime Minister, "has placed the utmost value on having a surplus of exports, and declared, time after time, that its efforts have been exerted to achieve as large a favorable balance as possible," while "in the House of Commons it has been held by speakers of the opposition group that the balance had no significance but that the real issue was the volume."

In holding the latter view, of course, opposition speakers have been quite right. Will anybody seriously argue that it is better to have a trade of less than $1,000,000,000 and a favorable balance of $42,000,000 than a trade of two and one-half times as much and an unfavorable balance of the same size or even larger?

If the Prime Minister thinks he can point with pride to the state of Canada's trade, now considerably less than it was in 1913, we are at a loss to understand his economic reasoning.

WHAT WILL ROOSEVELT DO ABOUT RUSSIA?

Several newspapers in the United States are suggesting that one of the first acts of the Roosevelt administration will be to recognize the Soviet government of Russia, and many are wondering what reaction there will be in quarters where the very sound of the name of Russia sends cold shivers up and down the spines "of our super-patriots."

One commentator says that if the reported act of recognition should prove correct, a few of these folk will very possibly die of apoplexy or something; but the average American, he thinks, "is likely to accept the news unmoved." He adds: "In the first place, it is slightly absurd for Washington to pretend that a government as firmly established as that of Russia has no official existence. And in the second place, non-recognition has cost American industry a good many million dollars in the last two or three years."

Mr. Roosevelt's job will be sufficiently difficult, even though he may cut down tariff barriers and succeed in recapturing some of his country's external trade, that he is hardly likely to ignore the opportunity of strengthening commercial relations with Russia.

A NATIONAL BOARD FOR A NATIONAL PROBLEM

Mr. F. C. Brown, chairman of the British Columbia division of the Canadian Manufacturers' Association, recommends to the executive of his organization the formation by the Dominion government of a federal employment board. He explains the principal duties of such a body as follows:

To plan measures that might be undertaken by government or private industry; carry out continuous research into the problem of unemployment; direct unemployment relief in co-operation with provincial boards, thus ensuring co-ordinated efforts throughout the Dominion; bring about registration of every unemployed, male or female, under the control of movement from one centre to another; "investigate conditions in all industries, regulating, if necessary, the hours of work and the age of employees; encourage or discourage new industries; in the best interests of the country; regulate, as far as possible, seasonal employment; plan for public works well in advance, avoiding increasing construction in boom periods, thus reserving such works for times of depression."

A plan of this sort no doubt was in the mind of Mr. Mackenzie King when he urged Premier Bennett at the 1931 session of Parliament to appoint a competent, impartial national commission to examine thoroughly the whole unemployment situation and give the government the benefit of its advice. It is unfortunate that the opposition leader's suggestion was not acted upon at that time. Indeed, although the government has been in office since the summer of 1930, only now is it taking up the whole question of unemployment with all the provinces in order that some sort of policy may be evolved to protect workers in the future.

Mr. Brown very properly points out to his organization that a board such as he recommends is essential because the responsibility placed on the shoulders of the Minister of Labor is far beyond the capacity of one man. The fact is, the unemployment situation in Canada today is the major problem confronting the government, and unless it shall be dealt with as a national problem and in a much more comprehensive manner than it has been dealt with to date, and ways and means of providing work are devised, recovery will be delayed.

WHAT OTHER PAPERS SAY

LIQUIDATION IS INEVITABLE
 The Winnipeg Free Press

The belief, now pretty generally held, that a period of liquidation is directly ahead in western Canada, is given further support by the attitude of the provincial premiers towards municipal tax arrears. A new basis is being sought which will have the effect of relieving municipalities from the burden of outstanding debts, and put their tax situation in a more practicable relationship with their financial competence. The premiers admit in their proposals that there is no more use in expecting the impossible, and that the only thing to be done is to scale down the obligations of the municipalities and forget about them. This decision is in line with the realities of the situation, and is undoubtedly one of the steps which will have to be taken if recovery is not to be indefinitely retarded.

FORGET DEBTS
 The Baltimore Sun

The part of good sense now is to forget the details of the December 15 negotiations; to concentrate on the fact that conditions compel drastic revision of the debts (if not outright cancellation, as The Sun believes), and to recognize that all our debtors, whether they paid on December 15 or not, are waiting for one last chance to talk business calmly as the alternative to general default. The trade of the world has been brought to a pass where they cannot go on even if they were free of the belief that the debts are not moral obligations—and none of them, not even Great Britain, paying through the nose, is free of that belief. Tariff embargoes and quota restrictions have practically killed foreign trade and stripped the nations of trade balances. They have not the means to pay normally.

To attempt to require the debtors to make direct payments in actual gold is sheer lunacy. Britain's semi-annual payment yesterday called for something like 14 per cent of her gold supply. At that rate she would be sucked dry of gold in about three years. France could last longer, but it would be only a question of prolonging the agony. The other debtors are in the same kind of boat. Britain and France, of course, could theoretically make loans, but the scope of that kind of relief would be extremely limited, because it would be obviously a case of borrowing from Peter to pay Paul. The great nations among the debtors have considerable foreign investments. But, aside from the ineffectuality of calling upon our former allies to deliver capital assets after we have haughtily refused reparations from Germany, appropriation of these assets would destroy their national economy and their purchasing power.

REVOLUTION

WHAT WE need, said a prominent friend of mine, a man well-up in business and public affairs, "is less of this talk of communism and socialism and all that sort of thing, less government in business and more of this new thing, Technocracy." Don't run away, gentle reader, I am not going to lecture on Technocracy to-day. I want merely to observe how men well-up in business and public affairs, while denouncing communism and socialism and all that sort of thing, are eagerly embracing them when they are wrapped up in the new, new shiny cellophane package and under the new trade name of the Technocrats.

THE SOCIALISTS of the United States held a big pow-wow in New York the other day when all the big pots-of-that-movement were on hand to outline the world as it will be after the social "revolution" which is to be conducted by peaceful means. But none of them seemed to notice, or at least none pointed out that the revolution, quite unnoticed by the public, least of all by the big, strong silent men of business, already has gone a long way. Historians will probably think of the year 1932 as one of the most revolutionary in history. Just look what is happening in an economic system dedicated to the sacred principle of laissez-faire, to the theory that on no account must government enter business, nor must the ordinary laws of supply and demand ever be interfered with.

IN THE UNITED STATES, the high priest of this theory, the government is putting billions of dollars of public money into private industry through The Reconstruction Finance Corporation and may never get a lot of it back. Millions of people are being supported on a dole which is the same thing in principle but not half so efficient as the unemployment insurance advocated by the Socialists. And now, the crowning reulution of this century, the United States, by bonusing wheat farmers not to produce so much wheat, and taxing the public to pay the bonus, proposes simply to take the wealth of one class on a vast scale and convey it to another—a precedent experiment in the sharing of property, in communism.

IN CANADA the state through federal and provincial governments, is pouring millions not yet fully calculated to the farmers from the public in the form of guarantees to the Wheat Pool. It has loaned sums not yet made public, to private companies to keep them going. In British Columbia alone the state is taking money from the employed class to maintain nearly 100,000 of the unemployed class. And much more of the same experiment is still ahead. One fine morning we shall wake up and find that the revolution has already occurred and is over. Then we shall be starting another one. But no matter. We are finding that Revolution isn't so hard to take if you close your eyes and hold your nose.

GALLANT CREATURE

HISTORIANS, I imagine, will be amazed when they examine the behavior of the primitive men of 1933 during the Depression. Instances of huddling in his steam-heated hut, of clinging desperately to his job, as historians will suppose, they will find him doing the most reckless things, boldly defying the fates and destinies. It is refreshing, indeed, to regard some of the wild and gallant things that men are doing in the very depth of depression, as if it never existed, as if everything were going on just as usual. I picked the following examples at random out of a review:

WHILE civilization hangs in the balance and the economic system trembles on the brink (which brink I don't know, but all the experts say it is on the brink), two scientists were quarrelling bitterly before the American Society for the Advancement of Science over the question whether the universe is really running down or not, and whether it is likely to last several million years or several billion.

While most people were chiefly concerned with the source of their next meal and most governments with the problem of keeping alive, the Dictator of Turkey, Kemal Pasha, was chiefly concerned about making his people hail their god in Turkish instead of the customary Arabic.

While men everywhere were looking for something they could believe in, a crusading group of atheists formed an organization which, with stirring propaganda, will try to stop American people believing in anything.

Another group, equally inspired, was forming an Anti-Superstitious Society whose members pledge themselves to spill salt, break mirrors, light three cigarettes on a match, walk under ladders, boast without touching wood, sing before breakfast and generally defy the gods.

As if there were no depression at all, and no to-morrow, the gallant government of Japan is framing a budget a mere seventy per cent out of balance and will borrow the margin by forced internal loans so as to keep on invading China without going to war.

But perhaps more out of touch with the depression than anyone, are Dr. Elie Ivanoff and two other Russian biologists, who have gone to Russian Turkestan where no one will interrupt them, and are endeavoring to create a child half human, half monkey, as their interesting contribution to the solution of the world crisis. And in face of all these evidences of men's unquenchable courage and resource, some people think we are not going to get over the depression.

HALF HUMAN

I NOTE, however, that so far as the last contribution is concerned, the contribution of a creature half human and half ape, the contributors are rather wasting their time. For according to Professor King Gregory of Columbia, we are all of us only about half human now. "Anthropoids," he told the American Association for the Advancement of Science, "have a passion for tearing things apart, but in point of destructiveness they are bungling amateurs compared with their big-brained relative, man. For untold millions of years the long line of vertebrates that led toward man was of unblinking thieves and robbers. Even now, the human face, beneath its smiling mask, carries the old mammalian trap set with sharp teeth. No wonder we suffer from grafters, gunmen and racketeers. The wonder is, not that so many of us find ourselves in prison, but that any of us have learned to keep out. Man, with his high mental development, may well be an early stage in the start of a new class of vertebrates. Taking the available evidence into consideration, it seems safe to predict that homo sapiens will survive this depression any many others. Brother apes, this is highly encouraging. We are making progress even if we don't live to see the advent of real humans."

TWO MONKEYS

WE HAVE a couple of highly destructive monkeys out this way almost human in their uncanny facility for finding out what makes things go and then removing it. Since Christmas, according to a survey of the havoc just completed next door, they have found out what made the toy engine go and have removed it with whoops of delight as the main-spring blew up with a funny noise, and then subsided with a lingering rattle. They found out what made the little doll say "Ma-ma" by pulling off its diaphragm; but after removing the organ of speech far down in its chest, these eminent surgeons were unable to replace the head. Still, it hardly matters, for the little boy next door seems to like the headless trunk just as well.

THEY HAD a little brown-cow who moved her head from side to side and said, "Moo, moo" (that is where the little boy learned his only words of English) but they removed the "moo" by a feat of surgery not pleasant to contemplate. A good deal of the cow came with it. They had a wheelbarrow from which they removed the wheel (we managed to replace it, so they lost several vital pieces in their picture puzzle so that their patient aunt spent most of one afternoon trying to fit it together without success. Finally they couldn't imagine what was inside their rubber ball and, when they made an incision with a dull knife, they found nothing at all. The ball seemed to sag and lose its old enthusiasm after that. We are beginning to think that Professor King Gregory of Columbia is right.

CITY JOINS IN RELIEF FIGHT

Delegation From Council and Unemployed to Interview
Government

The relief committee of the City Council to-day was preparing to join a delegation of unemployed in approaching the provincial government to seek a revision of the Jones relief scale.

Mayor Leeming was conducting negotiations with a view to arranging the interview sometime this week.

This plan was decided at a meeting yesterday between a delegation of twenty unemployed who met the relief committee at the City Hall and made certain "requests" regarding relief allowances. They asked the co-operation of the city in placing their views before the government.

While the relief committee agreed to accompany the unemployed in their appeal for an increase in the relief scale, it was plainly stated that all their "requests" did not meet the agreement of the committee.

Approximately 150 peaceful demonstrators paraded outside the City Hall while their delegation met the relief committee yesterday afternoon, in a session lasting more than an hour.

The resolutions presented by the delegation were in three groups:

INCREASE IN SCALE SOUGHT
"Those representing the married families on relief asked for an immediate increase in the relief scale, an allowance of $15 every three months for clothing, one hot meal per day for their children at school, free dental treatment and no more evictions."

The single men asked for the full contribution of forty cents a day to all single men, permission to sleep where they wished without going to "flophouses," shelter allowance for single men living with their parents and an adequate clothing allowance.

The third resolution asked council support for non-contributory unemployment insurance which would provide benefits of $10 a week for each adult and $2 a week for children.

DESERVE FAIR TREATMENT

These items were discussed separately and the relief committee explained that while not agreeing fully with the views of the unemployed, it was realized they were citizens of Victoria who deserved just treatment. The relief committee expressed willingness to accompany the delegation to the Parliament Buildings and state the city's view on the inadequacy of the food, fuel and shelter allowance set in the Jones scale.

BRITISH COAL

To the Editor:—It seems to me a great pity that Alderman Williams and some members of the city council should adopt such a short-sighted policy in regard to the importation of coal from England. Their argument is that the ships must have fuel, and that these ships carry return cargoes. The matter is summarily passed on, probably because there is no coal mine within the boundaries of Victoria City.

It would be well for the council to realize the ties that bind it to the province of British Columbia. (How can they lose sight of them?)—ties which affect each citizen financially as well as from a country standpoint.

Last summer the mines in Nanaimo often worked only two days a week. Many miners received fortnightly pay cheques of about $10. If the market is interfered with this year, the prospects are even more dreary. Now how does that affect the Victoria City Council?

The infringement on the market of Nanaimo coal will result in greater unemployment there. This will mean more men for the provincial government to help with relief. Add to this the loss in revenue to the provincial government due to a general unemployment condition in Nanaimo—for the mines are the chief industry—and what will the result be?

A city in need of provincial aid—with the resultant additional call on

"I Could Scream!"

St. Catharines, Ont.—"I was so very nervous at times, I felt I could scream. I would just toss and roll at night," said Mrs. R. Davidson of 27 Leeper St. "Everything I ate nauseated me and there was a heavy ache in the region of my kidneys. When I awoke mornings everything would go black before my eyes. Mother told me to use Dr. Pierce's Kidney and Bladder Prescription and it drove away all my aches and pains and I felt as strong as could be." Sold by druggists.

RHEUMATISM?

Lame Back? Painful Hip?

Listen to Mr. Wm. Piché, Hull, Que.: "I suffer from Rheumatism in the legs. It moves from place to place. The pain is terrible. If it weren't for T-R-C's I would be in bed instead of up and around. They certainly drive out the pain." Equally good for Neuritis, Lumbago, Sciatica, Neuralgia. No harmful drugs. 50c and $1 everywhere. 234 the taxpayers of the province. A further increase in the gasoline tax, the income tax, the "super-tax"—which will apply, in part, directly to the people represented by our city council. Further, the coal industry of Nanaimo is a province-wide institution in regard to rail transportation, tug and barge transportation, newspaper and billboard advertising, and the work of the retailer.

And for compensation, "the ships carry return cargoes." What will these cargoes be? Certainly not B.C. timber. The closed sawmills give mute testimony to Russia's gain and the province's loss, in that respect. What else from this province, to make up for the crippling of an industry? Fish? Russia again steps in. Grain? Yes, grain from the prairies, which affects us chiefly from a storage viewpoint—not from a farming.

It would be interesting to check up on the original idea of "carrying coals to Newcastle." Here, surely, is a literally parallel case.

If Alderman Williams lived eighty miles from Newcastle, would his attitude still be: "Let the people of Newcastle worry, the rest of us—we're English?"

I have no quarrel with the idea of trading with the Mother Country. More power to that same idea! But I do resent what seems a very unneighborly act on the part of our council in passing by so casually a matter which may concern them so vitally. It will be interesting to read the comments and watch the actions of Alderman Williams when the time for the "Home Products Exhibition" comes around.

I do realize that the matter has not been entirely disposed of, but "referred to committee." I would wish this letter to be free from prejudice—it being merely my intention to point out that, as the council passed on the matter, the expression of opinion on the part of Alderman Williams that was so decidedly unfavorable to the industry of Nanaimo might be resented by some who realize the importance of the coal market not only to the people of that city but to others in the province as well.

GANGES RETAINS LIBRARY BOARD

Ganges, Jan. 18.—The annual meeting of the Ganges Library Association was held in the clubroom Monday evening, E. Walter in the chair.

A report of the last annual meeting was read by the secretary, Colin King, and the financial statement given. On the proposal of Mrs. H. Johnson, seconded by Mr. Walter, the officers were re-elected for the year.

A keenly contested game of football was played this week by the newly formed Fulford football team against Saanich, ending in a victory for the home team. Mrs. J. Mout was hostess Friday evening at her home at Ganges Harbor, when the annual congregational meeting of the United Church of Ganges was held. Before the business meeting, about forty-eight sat down to supper. After supper, the reports of the different organizations in connection with the church were given, and the selection of officers for the new year made. The evening was given over to social activities.

Miss Constance Oxenham of Formby House, Ganges, was the week-end guest of Capt. and Mrs. George Maude of Fulford Harbor.

Douglas Hamilton has left for Bamerton, after visiting at Ganges with his family.

Mr. and Mrs. Robin Justice and family have removed from their former residence on the Cranberry Road and are making their home at Ganges Harbor.

Captain Bion has returned to Victoria after spending a day or two with his family at North Salt Spring.

Mrs. F. L. Crofton has returned home after a visit to Victoria.

The first of the league games for the McBride Cup will be played January 22 at Fulford, between Fulford team and North Saanich. The same day the Ganges Athletic Club will play the Sydney team on the Mahon Hall ground at Ganges.

The monthly meeting of St. Paul's Sewing Guild was held at the home of Mrs. G. O. Stacey at Ganges January 17. Among those present were Mesdames E. Walter, C. E. Beddis, A. B. Elliott, F. Wagg, H. Johnson, P. Stacey, D. Beddis and others.

The president briefly outlined the nature of the proposed changes. It was thought by some, he said, that one or two longer holes were desirable, and it had been suggested that No. 1 tee should be moved back twenty-five or fifty yards. The committee finally decided to make no change.

The president appointed T. A. Havemeyer, Col. A. F. M. Slater and W. Prest, in conjunction with the green-keeper, as a committee to see if it were feasible to set back No. 9 tee, and lengthen out this hole.

It is still necessary to protect the surface of the ground by treading up, but the committee will remove the embargo at the earliest opportunity.

While the uncertain weather continues no competitions, outside of the monthly medal, will be played. Just as soon as it is possible, a schedule of matches and competitions will be drawn up by the captain and secretary.

Those present at the meeting were C. R. Drayton, president; T. H. Kingscote, captain and vice-president; T. A. Havemeyer, W. Prest, A. Kennington; Colonel A. F. M. Slater, Miss Phoebe Hogan, and E. W. Carr Hilton, secretary.

The Sphinx is the most ancient example of independent sculpture now extant.

Uncle Wiggly's Icicle Game

By HOWARD R. GARA

After Uncle Wiggly had gone sleigh riding on the snowy hill and had saved Baby Bunty from the Bob Cat in the bushes, the rabbit gentleman wondered what other kind of winter fun he might have.

"For it was fun to coast into the bush where the Bob Cat was hiding,"

They won't study and knock him higher than a kite with my fence board toboggan sled," said Uncle Wiggly telling his wife about the adventure.

"It was fun for me, too," said Baby Bunty, who was quite excited, over what had happened.

"I suppose it," agreed Mrs. Longears with a laugh. "But was it any fun for the Bob Cat?"

"Fun for the Bob Cat with his silly little tail!" laughed Baby Bunty. "Not I should say not! He got snow up his nose!"

"The Bob Cat thought he would have fun when he caught Bunty, who was coasting right toward the bush and would have run into it if I hadn't saved her," said Uncle Wiggly. "The Bob Cat thought he was going to have fun, but he got fooled and served him right, I say!"

"So do I!" squeaked Nurse Jane Fuzzy Wuzzy, the muskrat lady housekeeper. "And now you had better go outside, Mr. Longears, and look for more fun, for I want to sweep this room."

"All right! I'll go out," agreed Uncle Wiggly. "I'll go look for an adventure."

"And I'll go to school," said Baby

GIVES VIEWS ON DISARMAMENT

U.S. Woman Delegate to Geneva Says Some Progress; Depicts More

Associated Press
Washington, Jan. 18.—The Far East "menace" and the "debate" were named today by Miss Mary E. Woolley, only United States woman delegate to the Geneva Disarmament Conference, as among the "many and dangerous lions" threatening the success of that conference.

Speaking before the eighth annual conference on cause and cure of war, Miss Woolley discussed disarmament difficulties, claimed some progress and predicted more.

"The most significant achievement, and a really significant one, is the return of Germany to the conference, and the attitude of the great powers which made it possible," she said.

As to the "debate," she said, "reports from Geneva indicate the spirit of conciliation which made the German agreement possible, might have resulted in other important international agreements, had it not been for the sudden flare up of anti-American feeling in the French capital following the war debt notes."

Your Baby and Mine

By MYRTLE MEYER ELDRED

IT'S BABY'S PRIVILEGE TO REFUSE WATER

Water is indispensable to the nutrition of every human being. Without sufficient intake of water the baby fails to grow in the same way as he would cease adding weight if his food were reduced. But just exactly how much water a baby needs or how to get him to take more when he refuses it are some of the things that are still unsolved.

OTHER SOURCES
Mothers forget that milk of which babies may take unmeasured quantities by breast, contains an enormous percentage of water. Cow's milk is the same. The fruit juices which practically every baby receives contain a large proportion of water. In these various ways babies get water into their systems. In addition to the food, that may supply them with a sufficient amount, the conclusion would seem to be that baby has enough water when he is gaining and satisfied, even if he refuses it by bottle, cup, or spoon.

SPITS OUT WATER

"I am a constant reader of your department," Mrs. B. tells me. "This is my first baby and I have your feeding leaflet and follow it faithfully every day. There is just one thing mentioned in your leaflet that my baby will not take, and that is water. I have offered it to him warm, cool, with and without sugar. He always spits it out. I know water is very necessary in the diet and I would very much like to know how I can make him take water."

"He is a breast-fed baby and does not seem to like a bottle so I offer it to him by spoon-feeding. He still refuses."

"What do you advise for thumb sucking?" He is five months old and I thought his teeth might be bothering him. I shall watch daily for your answer."

OFFER WATER AGAIN

Continue to offer the water, cool, without sugar, between meals and by spoon. Use a small spoon and put the water far back in baby's mouth so that his natural sucking movements will not tend to push it out again. That may be all that baby is doing when he "spits it out." If he won't have it, be philosophical. It is evident that if he needed more water he would accept it. Water by cup might be accepted later on.

The thumb sucking should be left alone. When baby is busy with his thumb, put a little in his hand and interest him in that. If this habit has just cropped up, it should be easy to wean him away from it simply by diverting his attention to other things. Most of the attention people advise one to try for thumb sucking results in focusing the baby's attention on his thumb so that he can't possibly forget about it. If his teeth are bothering him—an idea seldom responsible for the behavior attributed to it—give him a clean, rubber, teething ring and let him bite on that instead of on his thumb.

To-morrow: "Sleeping Bags Are Roomy, Warm."

MANY NEED BATHTUBS

Associated Press

DUCK-CHICKEN NEW CROSS BREED

Strange Bird Displayed at Eastern Show; Also Rooster That Lays Eggs

New York, Jan. 18.—Among the features at the New York poultry show at the Coast Artillery Armory with 3,000 entries from all parts of this country and Canada, is a peculiar type of bird, which is a cross-breed of Wyandotte, chicken, and an Indian runner duck. This male bird, called Pete, with reddish brown plumage, stands erect and waddles along like a duck. Another freak is the bird of a black Hamburg type, which has the tail of a rooster, crows like one, but lays eggs.

The imported Old English game cocks, the fighting breed, entered by Arnold H. Bell from his estate at Water Mill, L.I., have also attracted much attention.

Five Noted Writers

WASHINGTON IRVING

Very likely you have read the story of Rip Van Winkle, the man who drank some liquor and went to sleep for twenty years.

Old Rip is a famous figure in fiction. When he awoke from his long slumber he was amazed to find that many changes had taken place. Old friends could not be found, or else did not know him when he located them.

Washington Irving

The author of that short but interesting story was Washington Irving, who might be called the "father" of American Humor. He was born in New York City in 1783, and died in 1859. He was the first American humorist to win fame in Europe.

Like so many other men who have won fame through writing amusing things, Irving had much sorrow in his life. In his early manhood, he was sickly and was urged to "travel for his health." After the death of the girl he had planned to marry, he sailed across the Atlantic and spent two years in Italy, Holland and England.

When he was twenty-two years old, he finished writing a book called "A History of New York." Some persons suppose that all history is "dull," but I think that is a mistake. Well-written history can be as exciting as a good novel.

Irving's book was not meant to be history of the usual kind. It was written in a serious tone, but it is filled with good-natured fun about the old Dutch settlers. A copy came into the hands of Sir Walter Scott, and that famous man declared that he laughed so much that his sides hurt him.

Ten years later, when "The Sketch Book" appeared in print, Irving was now famous. "The Sketch Book" contains "Rip Van Winkle" and "The Legend of Sleepy Hollow."

When I visited the village called Sleepy Hollow, I had the feeling that it was a very sleepy place. Maybe that was because I had read Irving's stories, or maybe the region really makes a person sleepy.

During a long period, Irving lived in Spain; and while he was there, he wrote several books. One of these was "The Life of Columbus," a fine piece of writing not of the humorous type.

After returning from Spain, Irving bought an old Dutch cottage near Tarrytown and Sleepy Hollow. He remained a bachelor all his life.

Speaking of his cottage, Irving declared that he was more happy there than if he had been living in a palace.

The reports which came down to us say that Irving was a gentleman in the best sense of the word—that he was kind of heart and tried to give comfort to those with whom he came in contact. With money earned from his writings, he supported two of his brothers and five nieces. When he passed to a person, he was gay and cheerful, and it was a pleasure to listen to him.

WOULD LEGALIZE STERILIZATION

Eugenics Society Press For "Voluntary" Treatment of Mentally Deficient Women

Canadian Press
London, Ont., Jan. 18.—Legal authority for "voluntary" sterilization of mentally deficient women, it became virtually certain today, will be asked by the Eugenics Society of Canada at its annual meeting here Friday.

Dr. Madge McKim, secretary of the society and a former member of the faculty of the University of Western Ontario here, said the society advocated a bill to legalize the voluntary sterilization of patients "after consent of the patient, her nearest relative or the family physician had been obtained."

She remarked the practice was legal in Alberta and in England, and said legal authority which the society advocated would be based on the laws of the United Kingdom and the practice of the United States.

"There are cases," she said, "where the disease suffered by the patient would mean that if any more children were born it would ruin the mother's health or doom the child."

Canada Imports Dragon's Blood

Dragon's blood is imported into Canada, not the sort that the valiant Saint George, in days of old, when knights were bold, spilled upon the sword from the gaping wounds he made in the monster of history, but dragon's blood for all that.

It is a resinous substance which comes from the fruit of a climbing palm in Sumatra. When powdered it is a bright crimson soluble in alcohol, and is used chiefly in coloring carnations. During the eight months ending November Canada imported 855 pounds of it, the Dominion Bureau of Statistics points out.

Langford

The committee of the Langford Community Association will meet at Langford Lakeside on Thursday, January 19, at 8 o'clock, to discuss ways and means of providing recreation for the young people of the district.

John Bullen obtained his second-class scout badge at the weekly meeting of the First-Langford Scout Troop held Saturday evening. All scouts will meet Saturday at 8 o'clock at Marshwood ready to proceed to Victoria to take part in the ceremony at the Crystal Garden. The wolf cub pack will meet Friday at 4 o'clock.

WEEK-END MURDER

By GABRIELLE E. FORBUSH

She laughed. "All right. You can do it if you really try."
"As for Statlander—in the first place, he is still to be prevailed upon to stay, and while I think he will, if he refuses, that spills the beans. Then you'll have to pump him about the towel. That's your end of the house. DeVos, we can both have in mind. I didn't like that break about getting to the room before I did."

"Oh, must I wrestle with that Statlander man again?" groaned Linda. "That seems almost more than I can bear!"
"Perhaps I can help you some. I'll try. But I know one thing, Binks, I shan't let you out of my sight with him after this."

"Could he break me in two as easily as he did the golf club?" she teased, but at sight of his face repented.

"Sorry, Tommy! Somehow I still can't believe it. Well—it's time for you to go down. I do think we made some progress, don't you?"

"Yes—some," he said, soberly, but inwardly he felt far more dubious over their probable success than he had twelve hours earlier. They had something on everybody—but nothing convincingly definite on anybody. Well the night might bring some counsel! He waited in the hall until he heard the little click of the key turning, then went slowly downstairs.

Linda, left alone, found sleep harder to coax than she had expected. She heard more faintly than from the hall the even measure of what she supposed to be Mr. Statlander's stumblers. She heard the crush of gravel as Annie and Rosie returned and their whisper and movements in the kitchen below as they hoped—left everything in order for the night, and sooner far than she would have anticipated she heard voices in the lower hall, the purr of a self-starter as the Stoner's chauffeur turned over his engine, and the farewells of the departure.

Then Tom's voice in the upper hall, bidding the two men good-night, and she was out of bed and at the door to open it again before he knocked. After that, with the sense of relief and return to normal which his presence gave, she fell into a sleep so deep, so dreamless, that it seemed but the passing of a moment before she awoke to find the room filled with morning sun and knew that the final day of their adventurous week-end had come.

Facing the sense of conscious virtue which for some reason early waking gives, she decided she would get up and dress, if she could, without rousing her husband. Sitting up in bed, however, she perceived Tom by the window, evidently wide awake and ready for what the day might bring. At the sound of her stirring, he turned at once.

"Hello, Binks. Awake for good or going back to sleep?"

"Awake and going to get right up. Has anything happened?"

"Nothing—yet. I've been thinking things-over-though, honey, and I feel more encouraged than I did last night." He glanced at the clock. "Why don't you bathe and dress, then come over here and we can talk a bit before we have to go down."

Ten minutes later she was ready—her shower-wet hair combed in sleek waves, her eyes eager, her brown legs curled on the chaise longue near the big chair whence he had watched her rapid toilet appreciatively.

"And they talk about the feminine vanity of lingering over the ritual of dressing!" he murmured. "That's one of my bachelor delusions that matrimony has completely destroyed."

"Not everyone is such a rapid-fire artist as I," retorted Linda. "Having to work taught me lots besides office politics."

"But I've been working for years," offered Tom meekly. "Much longer than you ever did. And I can't touch you for speed."

"Darling—you're a man," said Linda brightly and appeared to think she had ended the discussion. After an eloquent look, her husband changed the subject.

"Well," he said, "speaking of getting down to work—"

"Yes, Tommy?"

"Do you realize how much depends on what happens to-day?"

"Do I? Everything depends, that's all! Did anything happen last night that I should know about?"

CHAPTER XXXVIII
Tom shook his head. "Nothing much happened," he said. "They stopped the bridge game at 12. I don't know. I didn't linger afterward to talk to Pratt and DeVos. They may have made some agreement for to-day with Fleur and Dolly but I didn't want to question them unnecessarily. I've taken the ground that this is their hotel and they can do as they like away from here. Statlander's our main problem to-day. Fortunately he still feels we need another talk about the set-up of the fall campaign. That man lives for business."

Linda said ruefully. "Certainly I've discovered that he has no small talk."

"And I'm not altogether convinced about Shaughnessy. That early appearance of his is still to be explained."

"And Mr. DeVos wanted me to go boat-riding alone with him," said Linda dreamily.

"What?"

"Nothing especially. You see, Fleur's boat—the Comet—had just gone past."

"Just one thing, Binks. Did he actually say alone? Did he use that word?"

She thought again. "No, he didn't. Tom. He said the boat could be handled by one person. And then he asked if I were as skillful as Fleur, who could handle her alone. That was the connection, as I remember it."

Tom released his breath in a long sigh and laughed a little.

SISTER MARY'S KITCHENMANY WAYS TO SERVE POTATOES

By SISTER MARY

Potatoes mashed, boiled and baked are the standbys in most families. Day after day the home-maker serves them with little thought of the many appetizing variations made possible by unusual seasoning.

Anchovy potato balls are a delightful change from plain mashed potatoes and will be especially liked with meats served without a gravy.

ANCHOVY POTATO BALLS
Three cups hot mashed potatoes, 3 tablespoons butter or bacon fat, 1 teaspoon salt, 1/4 teaspoon pepper, 1 teaspoon powdered mustard, 1 egg, 6 anchovies.

It will take five or six potatoes, depending on their size, to make three cups of mashed potatoes. Scrub them well and cook them with their skins on. Peel and mash and keep hot while adding butter, salt, pepper, mustard, baking powder and egg well beaten.

The potatoes must be hot enough to cook the egg slightly. If they are not, put the mixture over hot water and heat, stirring constantly until thick. Add anchovies which have been drained from the oil and finely minced. Spread the mixture on a buttered platter to cool. Shape into balls about the size of a golf ball.

Roll in fine dried bread crumbs, dip in egg slightly beaten with 1 tablespoon water and roll again in crumbs. Fry in deep hot fat until a golden brown. Drain on brown paper and serve at once. The fat should register 385 degrees F. or be hot enough to brown an inch cube of bread from the soft part of the loaf in forty seconds.

STUFFED BAKED POTATOES

Four baked potatoes, 2 tablespoons butter, 4 tablespoons milk, 1/2 teaspoon salt, 2 tablespoons grated cheese, 1/4 teaspoon pepper, 1/2 teaspoon mustard.

Cut a slice from the side of each potato and scoop out the pulp. Put through a ricer. Add butter, milk, salt, pepper, mustard and cheese and beat very hard. Line the potato shells using only the large part and not the top, with mashed potato. Add two tablespoons of creamed fish, ham or poultry, or a poached egg can be used. Cover with remaining potato, piling it up high above the shell. Return to the oven long enough to brown the tops and serve at once.

The creamed mixture can be omitted if the potatoes are to be served with meat.

MONDAY'S MENU

Breakfast: Baked winter pears, cereal, cream, egg toast, milk, coffee.
Luncheon: Baked potatoes stuffed with creamed salmon, browned pineapple slices, lettuce sandwiches, hermit, milk, tea.
Dinner: Baked halibut mold with wine sauce, anchovy potato balls, beef cups filled with peas, olive salad, coupe St. Andre, milk, coffee.

The NEW JELL-O: A Modern Thriller

I AM GLAD YOU LOOKED ME UP, MILLIE. IT'S GREAT TO SEE YOU AGAIN.

WELL, GRACE, YOU'VE CERTAINLY GIVEN AN UNEXPECTED GUEST A DELICIOUS LUNCHEON. MY, THE DESSERT WAS GOOD! HOW DID YOU EVER DO IT SO QUICKLY?

OH, THAT'S THE NEW JELL-O I COULDN'T HELP BUT NOTICE IT AT THE GROCER'S. THE PACKAGE IS SO ATTRACTIVE.

THAT'S INTERESTING! I WONDER IF I COULD SEE IT?

NOTICE THE DIRECTIONS SAY: USE HOT WATER—NOT BOILING WATER—THAT PREVENTS THE FLAVOUR FROM STEAMING AWAY. AND THIS NEW JELL-O CAN GO RIGHT INTO THE REFRIGERATOR. OR A COOL PLACE... IT TAKES ONLY A LITTLE MORE THAN HALF THE USUAL TIME.

MUMMY, CAN I HAVE SOME MORE JELL-O TODAY?

YES, MY DEAR. I'M NOT SURPRISED YOU LIKE IT. THE FLAVOUR IS BETTER THAN EVER. AND IT IS EASIER FOR ME THAN MOST DESSERTS BECAUSE THE NEW JELL-O CAN BE MADE SO QUICKLY.

Still steaming! Flavour escaping! Setting delayed!

5 minutes after making old-fashioned jelly powder even old JELL-O good as it was!

5 seconds after making NEW JELL-O

Into the refrigerator! Flavour saved! Setting begun!

CLARA BOW AT THE DOMINION

Has Leading Role Opposite Gilbert Roland in New Picture "Call Her Savage"

Clara Bow, dynamic, flame-haired queen of the screen, erstwhile "It" girl and one-time "Queen of the Flappers," emerged a fully mature emotional actress in "Call Her Savage," first of her Fox starring pictures which opened to-day at the Dominion Theatre.

She reveals an entirely new personality in a vivid portrayal that takes her from wild, carefree days on a Texas ranch to the gay spots of New York night life, from hectic hours with a worthless husband to the dire necessity of providing for a sick baby when she is a penniless unknown wandering the streets of New Orleans.

From girlhood to motherhood, from wealth to poverty and back again, she convincingly portrays every emotion in this gorgeously-gowned, superbly mounted production that must be hailed the one great triumph of her career.

A thrilling feature film entitled "Trailing the Killer" will open a week's engagement at the Empire Theatre on Friday, telling the story of a man-killing cougar which has been caught and slain.

There is comedy in this remarkable film and emotion that vibrates the heartstrings. It demonstrates how the adventures of a wolfhound and his mate can appeal to the emotions. Situations arise that are similar to those which occur in the lives of humans.

A parishioner, meeting his vicar, who was carrying a brief bag, remarked: "Got your lunch, vicar?" "Sermons," returned the clergyman. "Food for thought, you know."

"Oh, I see—dried tongue!"

CAPITOL THEATRE

Having recently been seen in such distinctly different roles as the sinister rackets boss in "The Beast of the City," the Alpine guide in "Private Lives," the greedy uncle in "Susan Lennox," and the kindly doctor in "The Sin of Madelon Claudet," Jean Hersholt now essays the role of a wealthy roue given over to wine, women and song in "Are You Listening?" which is being shown to-day at the Capitol Theatre.

Hersholt holds the distinction of having played more diverse characterizations than any other actor in Hollywood and his knowledge of the art of makeup disguise is on a par with that of such renowned makeup experts as John Barrymore and the late Lon Chaney.

COLUMBIA THEATRE

In the filming of "Movie Crazy," his 1932 comedy, now showing at the Columbia Theatre, Harold Lloyd was able to obtain unique photographic effects by the use of one of the more recent creations of motion picture science—the camera crane or "boom." For example, the comedian wished to make a sequence showing the entire location scene of a motion picture company at work. He began the scene in a hold of a ship—the stage of action—and, in one sweep, through the use of the "boom," flashed the sound mixer, the electrician, the operator of a wind machine, a boy ready to cut loose a torrent of water, and then back to the hold of the ship. It took exactly one minute to take in this entire sweep.

BARRY JONES WILL RETURN

Shaw's "Too Good to Be True" Will Be Presented at Royal January 28

For the presentation of Bernard Shaw's latest play, "Too Good to Be True," at the Royal Victoria Theatre on Saturday, January 28, Maurice Colbourne and Barry Jones will utilize the New York Theatre Guild production which, however, they have radically revised in costume, Shaw's own revisions in script after the Malvern and London productions have also been revised with the character of the old atheist completely recast by Mr. Colbourne, who plays the role.

So different is "Too Good to Be True" from the New York and London presentations that it is claimed that if the Colbourne and Jones production could have been seen in these great theatrical centres the critics of two continents might have debated less about the merits of the play.

Barry Jones will play the role of the Burglar Parson, Pascoe Thornton, who did not appear in "The Queen's Husband," will portray Private Meek, which one minute to take in this entire sweep.

Constance Cummings is Harold Lloyd's leading woman in "Movie Crazy."

Mail orders are now being filled in the order of their receipt.

EMPIRE THEATRE

Irony, now amusing, now biting, is piled upon irony in the remarkable progress of events in "The Theft of the Mona Lisa," which is the screen attraction at the Empire Theatre to-day.

Every sequence of this world renowned musical dramatic talking picture is built upon a startling example of human frustration. These incidents highlight the great romantic theme in the picture, the desperate love of a poor painter for a heartless beauty who resembles the great painting in the Louvre, a painting which he steals in order to make an impression upon her.

Dumbbells Will Change Numbers

"Here We Are Again," by the Dumbbells, will close a three days' run at the Royal Victoria Theatre this evening and the remainder of the week with a brand new musical revue titled "Keep Smiling."

The second revue is "described" as equally as attractive as the initial offering and as it has been played with marked success by the company in four cities on the way west it comes here in a smoothly running state as "Here We Are Again."

Included in the new revue are such numbers as Harry Binns' "Was It Dream," "Float On," and his ensemble of Irish folk songs: "Don Romaine's 'Lord, You Made the Nights Too Long,' 'Pat Rafferty's 'O Gee, Oh Gosh,' and a double with Rafferty called the Dolly Sisters; Curly Nixon's 'Bend Down Sister' and a scarecrow dance with Morrison.

Little Jackie Merkle, who is not yet five years old, the boy who startled Hollywood last spring with his marvelous feats of telepathic inspiration is the added attraction at the Capitol Theatre this week.

On the big stage of the theatre Jackie appears a mere baby, yet he has the poise and assurance of a seasoned veteran. Jackie's father, J. B. Merkle, receives from persons in the audience the questions they desire to ask. Jackie gives the answers with such spontaneous precision that he has the audience all agog before he has worked three minutes.

The most difficult names of foreign cities, foreign automobiles or personal names which would be tongue twisters for many persons are answered without hesitation.

Bills of Vancouver Broker's
Wife Argued in Court Here

Whether a wife on alimony has the right at all to pledge her husband's credit, and then whether she has the right to have a doctor and chiropractor attending her at the same time, and finally whether, when the second practitioner was called in it could be set down in the nature of a necessity, were the issues argued before the Court of Appeal here to-day by Gordon Wismer and R. L. Maitland, K.C.
in the appeal over the suit for $250 of Dr. Donald M. Lineham of Vancouver, against William Holden, Vancouver fi-

Mr. Maitland, as counsel for Mr.

have it reversed in favor of Dr. Line-ham.

SEALING MONEY APPEAL IS LOST

Court Rules Out Attorney-General's Claim to Dividends
in Bank Unclaimed

The Court of Appeal dismissed
the appeal of the Attorney-General of British Columbia against the judgment of Mr. Justice D. A.
Macdonald in the Supreme Court, which denied the right of the Attorney-General to have turned over to him the $3,000 of unclaimed moneys in the Bank of Montreal, Vancouver, after the winding up of the Vancouver
Shipbuilding, Sealing and Trading
Company of 1908.

Thomas Todrick, as counsel for the Attorney-General, claimed the money on the grounds of "bona vacantia," as it consisted of the dividends unclaimed by a number of sailors and other shareholders.

The company had operated the sealing vessel, Vancouver Belle, and in 1892 while in Bering Sea, with a valuable cargo on board, was seized by a Russian cruiser. Later the company was awarded $46,400 compensation, and going into liquidation, distributed this money among its shareholders and seamen.

Named as successful defendants in the case were: Ellen Hallett, Sarah D.
MacGillivray, T. T. Sien, Annie J.
Keith, George Fowler, Laura Rand
and F. W. Kounnetell. As counsel for them, H. B. Robinson argued that the Attorney-General had lost his right to appeal by reason of the acceptance of the taxed costs under the order appealed from.

The justices upheld this argument and ordered the appeal dismissed.

READ THE STORY, THEN COLOR THE PICTURE

When Duncy broke right through the ice, he shouted "Help!" real loudly.
Woe Windy rushed up close to him and cried, "What can we do?"
"It's certain we can't go too near or we'll be in with him, I fear. The ice is thin in that spot and I know we'd break right through."
Then Duncy, to his relief, found while he was splashing all around that it was not so very deep. "Why, I can stand," said he.
"However, I'll catch cold, no doubt,
if someone doesn't help me out. I'd crawl out on the ice myself, but it's too smooth for me."

"Just watch! I cannot get a hold!"
And then a bunny, brave and bold, exclaimed, "Stand back, you Tinnies!
I have a dandy plan."
"I'll soon have Duncy on the ground with us, we'll be a-broke and sound."
And then, to get a big snowshoe, the little bunny ran.

in Andover and St. John from 1895 to 1898, and then came to British Columbia and practiced in Cranbrook until and the Dominion faithfully as a

the House of Commons, holding the portfolios of Minister of Public Works both in Victoria and Ottawa. He also

Sergeant James Florence of the City Police Force, was nearing the end of his twenty-fourth year in the service in 1909 and pounded the pavements for a number of years. He was promoted also the drill instructor for the force and keeps the officers toiling the mark in this direction. He was born in Scotland.

Constable Peris Atkinson, a product of Russell, Manitoba, who celebrated a birthday yesterday, has served with the Victoria Police Force for eight years. Among other things he is a decided asset to the police tug-of-war team, tipping the scales over the 200 mark.

BENEFIT BOUTS HERE SATURDAY

Leading Amateur Wrestlers
and Boxers of City to Meet in Card For John Rowland

Athletes of Victoria who know and appreciate the sportsmanship that has been one of the principle features of Johnny Rowland's career in athletics, will rally to a benefit boxing and wrestling show to be put on for the injured rugger at the Pacific Stadium on Saturday evening.
On his back for many weeks through the complicated injury he sustained in a league rugby game here, Johnny has fought his way to better health without complaint. To help him financially, wrestlers of the Y.M.C.A.,
under the direction of George Lovatt,
and boxers of the Canadian Scottish, trained by Dave Lewis, will provide a smart card at the stadium which has been secured free of charge for the programme.

The scheme is being backed by the Victoria Rugby Union and all Victoria's sporting fraternity is expected to co-operate in staging the events,
the first of which will start at 8.30 o'clock.
In addition to "being a" programme which will stand on its own merits,
as the leading exponents of wrestling
and boxing in the city's amateur ranks show their skill, the card will be held for a worthy cause. Good support is anticipated from the public.

J. Freeman, who represented the Girls'
Leaders' Council.

W. A. Rundle, who was sponsor of the Boys' Parliament which met in cil, which is international and interdenominational in its scope, embraces such bodies as the Young People's Unions, Girls' Leaders' Council, Boys'

Work Board, Children's Leaders' Council, Boys' Parliament, girls' camps, boys' camps, leaders' camps, vacation schools and Leadership Training School. Heritage, Rev. Bruce Gray is president of the Greater Victoria Religious Education Council.

RACING BILL INTRODUCED

Measure Would Bring Back
Pari-mutuel Betting in State of Washington

Olympia, Wash., Jan. 18.—The pari-mutuel betting horse racing
bill was introduced in the House of the Washington Legislature today along with nineteen other measures, the largest number filed in any one day since opening of the session, January 9.

The measure would create a state commission of three to be appointed by the governor to supervise and regulate thoroughbred horse racing. It would permit the pari-mutuel betting system, but would prohibit pool-selling, bookmaking and circulation of handbills.

Ten per cent of the gross admission fees would be collected by the state, together with license fees and $100 per race with the money to be turned over to the school fund.

A SCIENTIFIC "WILLIAM TELL"

Seemingly it is a heartless father who would attempt with a bow bit of danger. It appeared to the crowd that he made a perfect shot but explained it is all a scientific illusion.

Old Man Par Takes Beating in California Golf Events

Plan to Change Method of Scoring Assists in National Hockey

Olive Wade, Canadian Tennis Star, Has Put "Mrs." on Her Name

THAT CERTAIN gentlemen of the fairways known to golfers as Old Man Par, although aided and abetted by the elements, took a consistent beating in the winter tournaments of California this season. He came out second best in every test as Craig Wood, Deal, N. J., flashed to the front as the big money winner and John Dawson, Chicago, became the greatest collector of amateur trophies.

In the only medal play round of the San Francisco open, Olin Dutra, Santa Monica, United States professional golfers' champion, was one under par with a seventy to lead the qualifiers for the match play test which Wood won from Al Espinoza of Akron, Ohio. Going to Pasadena for the $4,000 open, Wood won the tournament with three rounds of sixty-nine, two strokes under par, and a final round of 70, for a total of 279, six under. Eddie Loos and Harry Cooper, both of Chicago, were second, with 282, still better than the standard figure, while Dick Metz Deal, N. J., was fourth with a par equalling total of 284.

A strong wind sweeping in from the ocean failed to keep the amateur professional teams in the hole. The event, however, was a success. Archie Hambrick, Zanesville, Ohio, the winner, with Jim Ross Santa Monica, his amateur partner, won the event with a sixty-three, eight strokes to the lead under par. Seventy-one. Wood won the Los Angeles open with a seventy-two-hole total of 281, three strokes under par. He had perfect figures for the first two strokes on the first day with a sixty-nine, and one in the third round with a seventy. The other rounds were even par for seventy-one. Leo Diegel, Agate, California, and Willie Hunter, Los Angeles, who tied for second, were one stroke behind par with 285 totals.

Paul Runyan, young White Plains, N.Y., pro came to the rescue in the Agua Caliente open, when it appeared that wind and rain would win out at last. He finished with a total of 287 for seventy-two holes, one stroke under standard. Par for the tough layout which meanders through Tia Juana valley is 72. Runyan's total was three strokes over the standard. A year ago, there was another element in the fact that winter rules were not played this year. Morrison, in his debut with a 284 last year had the advantage of bettering his lies on his second shots. Under the same circumstances Gene Sarazen was the victor. He won in 1930 with a 293 total, and George Von Elm and John Golden tied for first prize the next year with 293.

There is a move on foot to change the method of awarding points scored on goals in the National Hockey League. As the rule has it now, all those who take part in the scoring play inside the defending team's territory are credited with an assist with the actual score receiving credit for the goal. However, abuses that are almost silly have entered in and now it is not unusual to see three players receive assists when a goal is scored from a mix-up around the net. Just how the officials can connect up some of these plays is difficult to understand. For instance, one player shoots on the net, another bats it out from behind, a third drives it again at the goal and a fourth pushes the puck into the net. The first three get assists while the fourth gets a goal.

It is not expected any change will be made this season, but next year the rule-makers are planning to adopt a new system whereby the player handling the puck previous to the scoring will be the only one to be credited with an assist. This will cut down the large number of assists and will give them only to players deserving credit for the play.

Olive Wade, former Canadian tennis champion, has been married to George Worley for several months. Announcement of their betrothal would have been made long ago had not their parents wished them to delay being married on account of their youth. The young couple decided to take the leap and were secretly wed in October. Miss Wade is well-known here, having played in a tournament at the Victoria Lawn Tennis Club two years ago.

CRICKETERS TO MEET TO-NIGHT

A report on the Macdonald playing field property, and selection of delegates to the British Columbia body will also be taken up.

Aussies Have to Score 531 Runs in Second Innings to Capture Match

BRADMAN PUTS ON SCORE OF 66

Harold Larwood Again Draws Jeers For Bowling; Woodfull and Richardson In

Adelaide, Australia, Jan. 18.—Faced with the task of scoring at least 532 runs to beat England in the third cricket test match, Australia went to bat to-day and when stumps were drawn had put together 120 runs for the loss of four wickets.

The English second innings ended with 412 runs. Added to their first innings' total of 341, this appeared to assure them of victory in the third match of the struggle for the historic ashes. Australia managed to score only 222 runs in their first time at bat.

Resuming the bat with the big task in front of them of subduing the spirited English bowling the early Aussie batsmen proved a disappointment. Don Bradman was the only one of four to make any stand, he having knocked off 66 before being caught by Verity who was bowling.

Eighteen thousand persons gathered to see the latter part of the English batting stand. The M.C.C. went to bat with an over score of 96 for six and Ames and Verity took the crease with obvious intention of taking no chances out of raising the score.

Reaching the 350 mark after more than an hour's play Ames opened out Bradman was given a turn with the bowling but Ames knocked seventeen runs off him in his first two overs.

Shortly after the luncheon interval Ames was bowled by O'Reilly with his score at 69. His wicket, the M.C.C.'s seventh, fell with the total score at 394. His partnership with Verity brought 98 runs in one hour and fifty minutes.

Harold Larwood, who had aroused considerable ire by his leg theory tactics in the bowling of the previous days, then took the pitch. He received a mixed reception from the crowd. Four balls in O'Reilly's sector, Verity was bowled with his score at 40. It was the eighth English wicket to fall with the total at 395.

ENGLISH TAIL FEEBLE
Thereupon the tail of the English team wagged feebly. Wickets were taken in quick succession. Larwood knocked Rimmer for a boundary to send up the 400 mark and then was caught by Bradman. He scored eight and the ninth wicket fell for 408.

William Paynter was limping badly when he appeared. Maurice Leyland ran for him. William Voce was bowled by O'Reilly for the last English wicket after scoring eight runs. Paynter was left at bat with one run. Voce was the last English wicket to fall, leaving the score 412, exactly 531 runs ahead of the Aussie since innings count.

Tea was taken on the dismissal of the English team. The M.C.C. was at attention of play Larwood was bowling. J. Fingleton attempted to turn a third ball of Larwood's second over and was clean bowled before he had scored. The Aussie total was three for one wicket.

The second wicket fell cheaply with W. H. Ponsford cutting a waist-high bouncer from Larwood into the hands of D. R. Jardine, who made a splendid catch at point. Ponsford had scored three and the second Aussie wicket fell with the total at 126.

Larwood went into the changing room to check some trouble he was having with his boot and the Newball of Patsford was given a great hand when he came to the field in the latter's place.

BRADMAN CHERISHED
Bradman came to bat amid tremendous cheers and immediately settled into a brilliant form of crisp driving and clever placing. He punished Verity's deliveries, sending them to all directions.

Bradman reached his fifty in sixty-four minutes, including eight fours. Just after that mark was attained he drove Verity for six into the stands and struck a woman on the arm. The next ball he returned with a drive at the bowler and Verity made a fine catch. Bradman was out with 66 and the total for three wickets stood at 100. The celebrated batsman's inning had been a masterly all-round showing and lasted seventy-three minutes. His runs included ten fours and one six.

Stanley McCabe only just got the feel of the bat when caught by Maurice Leyland. He had scored seven, and the fourth wicket fell for 116 runs.

The cheers which had greeted Larwood's bowling on the off turned to boo and jeer when he resorted to his leg theory in his seventh over. W. R. (Turn to Page 13, Col. 1)

VICIOUS BOWLING OF LARWOOD HAS BROUGHT PROTEST

Australian Cricketers Officially Object to Style of English Star

Say Continuance of Body-line Bowling Will Threaten Friendly Relations

Adelaide, Australia, Jan. 18.—The high feeling which has been roused in Australian cricket circles by the "leg theory" tactics of the English bowler, Harold Larwood, in the test match series, has culminated in official protest.

Larwood's persistence in bowling a fast high-bouncing ball down the leg side of the wicket with its accompanying danger to the batsman has already injured several Australian players.

W. A. Oldfield was forced to retire in the first innings of the third match with his score at 41 when he was hit on the head. W. M. Woodfull, Australian captain, also caused a flurry when, after being hit himself, he refused to speak to the manager of the English team and declared the M.C.C. was playing an unsportsmanlike game that was not cricket.

To-day the Australian Board of Control called the Marylebone Cricket Club on the subject.

"The body-line bowling," said the protest, "has assumed such proportions as will endanger the best interests of the game. It is making the protection of the body by the batsman the main consideration and is causing intensely bitter feeling between the players as well as injury. In our opinion it is unsportsmanlike and unless it is stopped immediately it is likely to upset the friendly relations existing between Australian and English cricket."

The public and press have had a chance to view Watson's ability," said the non-committal announcement of the test match, "and the commission, therefore, has approved his match with Choclate."

The commission had nothing further to say on the subject of Seaman Watson, imported for one title fight and harassed by the preliminary bouts when he showed his qualifications in the public at the demand of the box fight arbiters, but the general opinion yesterday was that Watson had not been treated quite fairly.

His public examination, under the strain of a semi-hostile gathering in the St. Nicholas Gym, against three rough youngsters, who did their best to belt him under, was the first of that kind ever made here of a foreign champion's fighting ability.

Ripley-Burch In Latest Ice Trade

Boston, Jan. 18.—Boston Bruins' management yesterday evening announced it had traded Billy Burch for Vic Ripley, the Chicago Black Hawks' clever center. Ripley, product of Calgary, has played all his National League hockey with Chicago.

Burch was obtained from New York Americans before the season started. He saw but little service with the Bruins for he was considered a bit too slow to fit into Manager Art Ross' system. Most of his service with the Americans was in the centre position.

Prince Albert In Win Over Weyburn

Weyburn, Sask., Jan. 18.—Displaying a finished brand of hockey that has not previously been witnessed at Weyburn this season, and with speed to burn, the Prince Albert Minors defeated the Weyburn Beavers 3 to 1 at the Arena rink yesterday evening before 1,000 fans—the biggest crowd of the winter—in their first appearance here.

WIN BY SHUTOUT
Port Erie, Ont., Jan. 18.—Cleveland Indians threw a scare into the fast-stepping Buffalo Bisons here yesterday evening, holding them scoreless for two periods of hockey before the berserker crashed them in the final period for a 3 to 0 win, their fifth in the last ten days.

Larger Cups In Golf Suggested

Los Angeles, Jan. 18.—Gene Sarazen's one-man campaign for bigger and better golf holes probably will not result in the wholesale installation of eight-inch cups immediately, but it has started discussion among ranking players.

Miracles of Sport

Freddy Steele In Win Over Bennett

Tacoma Welterweight Forced to Take Considerable Punishment to Lift Decision From Detroit; Israel Breaks Padilla's Jaw

Seattle, Jan. 18.—Freddie Steele, Tacoma welterweight, beat a hearty tattoo on the chin of Leonard "Bulldog" Bennett, Detroit, to win a hard-fought decision on a crystal pool boxing card here yesterday evening. They went six rounds.

Bennett was dangerous to the final bell, making Steele take some terrific punches and like them. One uppercut jarred Steele's jaw so that he said he was unable to close it completely after the second round, and handlers thought for a while it was fractured. Bennett took the first heat with sweeping lefts, and also landed the hardest blow in the second, but in the third Steele began to show a comeback of his former timing and block-jug, which had been dulled by a long lay-off. After the third he recovered his aggressiveness and had Bennett hanging on except for savage spasmoid attacks.

Abie Israel, Seattle featherweight, ripped up General Padilla, Philippine, for two rounds, then fractured Padilla's jaw in the third, ending what was to have been a six-round melee. A terrific left hook cracked the jaw, and Israel had another chance to sock when the Filipino failed to go down, but he refrained while Padilla appealed to the referee.

Bobby Gray, San Jose, Cal., featherweight, fought a six-round draw with Harry Marshall, Vancouver, B.C. Eddie Ivory, Vancouver, B.C., welterweight, fought a four-round draw with Justo Poca, Manila; Leo Bain, Tacoma, and Leo Dardeen, welter, drew in a four-round opener.

Portland, Ah Wing Lee, Portland, Chinese, knocked out Hubert "Kid" Dennis, Butte, Mont., (two).

Indianapolis, Paul Pirrone, Cleveland, outpointed Roy (Kid) Baker, Anderson, Ind., (ten). Willard Brown, Indianapolis, outpointed Santiago Zorilla, Panama, (ten).

Fargo, Sherald Kennard, Fargo, and Caddy Casey, Davenport, Iowa, drew (six). Ray Cossette, Moorhead, N.D., outpointed Johnny Moran, Detroit, (four). Al Retzlaff, Leonard, N.D., outpointed Jimmy Slattery, Bismarck, (four).

Port Benning, Conn Griffin, Fort Benning, outpointed Cowboy Frank Edgren, Cheyenne, Wyo., (ten). Harold Murphy, Springfield, Mo., outpointed Ching Johnson, Port Benning, (eight).

Los Angeles, Jan. 18.—"Beans" Reardon, veteran National Baseball League umpire, has received his 1933 contract, signed it and mailed it back to President John Heydler in New York.

"Yes, I got a cut," he told newspapermen. "It wasn't so bad though, and I'm satisfied. Everybody in baseball is getting his salary whacked this year and I can't think of any reason for me being an exception."

Some stars are for it, others are opposed, and a few favor a compromise. All agree increasing the size of the cups would bring a greater thrill to the galleries.

New York Beaten 2 to 0 For First Shut-out in Seventy-nine Battles

VICTORY PLACES WINGS IN LEAD

Americans Continue Their Winning Streak By Stopping Toronto 3 to 1

Somebody called them a "motley" collection of has-beens and rookies last November, but Detroit Red Wings looked down from atop one National Hockey League section to-day and grinned the grin of a team that has smashed its way from last place to first within a month.

Yesterday evening the Wings polished off the season's most brilliant winning streak by a 2 to 0 win over New York Rangers, and incidentally presented Lester Patrick's Bluebirds with their first shutout in seventy-nine games.

The triumph was Detroit's tenth in the last fourteen games. Scrambling along in the Canadian section on much the same lines as Detroit's taking the other group, New York Americans trounced Toronto's first-place Leafs 3 to 1, and climbed to within three games of the Stanley Cup champions.

A dazzling attack led by Bill Bridge and Red Jackson, Winnipeg rookie, helped Bill Phillips score the first goal in the second period. George Patterson scored in the second, Nick Waznie got a third before Toronto's Hervey Jackson pushed in a center on his twenty-second birthday.

Montreal Maroon stayed right where they have been for weeks, losing 6 to 3 to Boston Bruins. The Ottawa Senators finally got going, and outpointed the Canadiens 3 to 2 in a fast exhibition. Frank Finnigan had a hand in each goal, passing to Hec Kilrea for the first, nailing the second himself and giving the third to Cooney Weiland.

Maroons slumped into a two-goal decline in the first period at Boston, Red Beattie and Joe Jerwa scoring Bruin goals. Maroons came back at Lionel Conacher scored in the second, but lost this and more without delay. Joe Lamb clipped in three tallies in this session, and Dick Gagner got a fourth. Glen Brydson scored a second Maroon goal in the third when it was far too late.

Detroit, Jan. 18.—Detroit Red Wings smashed their way into first place in the American division of the National Hockey League here yesterday evening, shutting out New York Rangers, 2 to 0 before a record paid attendance at Olympic Arena of 14,402.

The shutout ended a seventy-nine-game streak in which the Rangers never have failed to score at least one goal, and placed Detroit a point ahead of the New York team in the standings.

Frank Carson, veteran Detroit wingman, got the first goal midway in the final period, on a lone-handed gallop past Ching Johnson, ace New York defenseman. Johnny Borrell scored the second goal, while Brennan, Ranger defender, was serving a major penalty for tripping. Doug Young gave him the pass.

Since early December Red Wings have been beaten only once as they rushed pell-mell over every foe in either group.

It was a coincidence that an old Ranger, John Ross Roach, who guarded the New York nets through most of the long score-a-game stretch, was the first to make up a shut-out against the Patrick blueshirts. The veteran Port Perry puck stopper played brilliantly.

SUMMARY
First period—No score. Penalties: Evins, Johnson, (2).
Second period—No score. Penalty: Gallaher.
Third period—1. Detroit, Carson, 10:04. 2. Detroit, Borrell (Young), 13:09. Penalties: Brennan (major), Gallaher.

Ottawa, Jan. 18.—Ottawa Senators ended a long losing streak here yesterday evening, taking a 3 to 2 win from Canadiens. Eight thousand fans saw a typical game between these rivals.

Ottawa's first-string line of Frank Finnigan, Ching Johnson, and Bill Bridge, posted all three Ottawa goals with Johnny Gagnon and Albert Leduc scoring for Canadiens. Sensational work by Billy Ferrie in the Ottawa nets played the way for the Ottawa victory.

The pudgy goalie blocking forty-one shots, while George Hainsworth, his rival, was kicking out twenty-three. Both teams turned on the speed from the face-off and only at odd moments did it slow down. Leduc and Kilrea scored in the first period. Finnigan made 2 to 1 for Ottawa in the second, and both team scored in the lightning-fast third period.

SUMMARY
First period—1. Canadiens, Leduc (Morenz), 8:35. 2. Ottawa, H. Kilrea (Finnigan), 11:25. Penalties: Bourgeois, H. Kilrea.
Second period—3. Ottawa, Finnigan, 12:15. Penalty: Burke.
Third period—4. Ottawa, Weiland (Turn to Page 13, Col. 1)

GREAT GOLFERS ARE BORN, SAYS GENE SARAZEN

However, Many Fine Players Have Been Made; Jones Mastered All Shots

British and U.S. Open Titleholder Makes Selection of All-America Team

Los Angeles, Jan. 17.—Gene Sarazen believed great golfers are born, but some very good ones have been made. Tied to a hospital bed for a week after he was stricken with influenza, the British and United States open champion had time to think of a procession of greats he has seen pass in his decade of championship play.

"Any question as to the greatest of the great?" he was asked. "None," was the prompt reply. "Bobby Jones, of course."

"In my opinion, Jones's success was due to the fact that he completely mastered all the hard shots in golf. "Since I have been lying here in bed, I have thought of a sort of all-time America golf team, the best man for playing each club. "Let Jones do the driving, George Von Elm for the brassie, Paul Runyan for the spoon, Mac Smith the No. 1 iron; Olin Dutra, No. 2; Tommy Armour, No. 3; Walter Hagen, No. 4; Leo Diegel, No. 5; Francis Ouimet, No. 6; Craig Wood, No. 7; Johnny Farrell, the putter."

"Gene was reminded that his lineup only contained eleven stars and included no niblick player.

"Oh, put me down for the wedge, I'd make the shots with that club if this outfit left any."

TAYLOR HAS FINE RECORD

Good Match Expected Friday When Calgary Veteran Meets Bob Kruse Here

One of the finest heavyweight matches in weeks is looked for at the Pacific Stadium on Friday evening when Bob Kruse, Portland, goes up against Jack Taylor, Calgary, who claims the Canadian heavyweight championship. The bout is scheduled to go six ten-minute rounds and is one half of a double main event. The first bout will start at 8:45 o'clock.

In the second half of the main event Eddie Madrick, Portland, will meet Bob Meyers, Tacoma, in a return match. This affair is also scheduled over the six-round period. On last week's card Meyers defeated the Portlander.

When he steps into the ring against the Calgary veteran, Kruse will be meeting a tough opponent. In bouts at the Alberta city Taylor has defeated such well known grapplers as Steve Savage and Tiger Daula. He also wrestled to a draw with Stranger Lewis. After his bout with Taylor, Savage spent two months in the hospital.

A local preliminary will round out what appears to be a good card.

Townsend-Ross Fight Is Off

Chicago, Jan. 18.—The Chicago Stadium to-day launched a campaign to reduce boxers' purses.

As the result the fight between Billy Townsend, Vancouver, and Barney Ross, Chicago lightweight, January 27, was cancelled due to the failure of the boxers to accept terms offered them. Townsend in particular balked at the price offered him for the encounter.

Sidney Strotz, president of the Chicago Stadium Corporation, revealed that out of the last seven shows the stadium has only managed to break even on two of them, losing on five.

Fans Will Select Teams For Charity Football Match

Two Elevens Are To Be Chosen For Sports Week Game

Players Receiving Greatest Number of Votes Will Win Place on Clubs

WILL TAKE VOTE ON JANUARY 28

First Time Plan Has Ever Been Tried Here: Line-ups of Teams Is Given

Officials of the Victoria division of the Pacific Coast Football Association have decided on a novel plan for the selection of teams to participate in the charity match, in connection with the Kiwanis Sports Week, at the Royal Athletic Park on February 4. The executive have made arrangements to let the fans pick the two elevens for the game.

When the Victoria intercity eleven clashes with St. Saviours, strong Vancouver club, at the Royal Athletic Park on January 28, a printed ballot will be given to each person paying an admission charge until the available supply has run out. Each fan will be asked to fill out the ballot, selecting players from the four first division clubs of the local league, namely, Victoria West, Victoria City, Saanich Thistles and Esquimalt. The fans are asked to pay particular attention to playing ability and ability to work with the other players selected in naming their men.

A AND B TEAMS
The players receiving the greatest number of votes will compose the A team, while those securing the second highest number of votes will be formed into the B aggregation. The teams thus selected will compete in the exhibition fixture.

When a representative club is selected by the league officials there is always considerable criticism by many of the fans so the executive has decided to give the supporters a chance to make their own choice and then to have the pleasure of seeing their selections in action.

There will be plenty of material from which to choose and no doubt many interesting combinations will be turned in. This is the first time in local football history that the followers of the game have been given a chance to take a hand in the selection of all-star outfits.

The line-up of the two teams will be published in the January 30 issue of The Times.

In order to help the fans in their selections the players who turned out last Saturday with the four senior teams follow:
Esquimalt—L. De Costa, March, Joe Watt, W. De Costa, Sweeney, Edwards, Richard, Wagland, Stewart, John Watt and R. Stewart.
Saanich Thistles—Wilmshurst, Joe Crowe, Leggett, Williams, Vigers, Duncan, Burns, Price, Mail, Saville, Jim Crowe and Esler.
Victoria West—Marley, Thompson, Laird, Lorandini, Peers, Wright, Gibbons, Youson, Robinson, Betheridge and Mulcahy.
Victoria City—Chalmers, Glog, Harper, Gibbons, Davidson, Smith, Storey, McBay, Pepin, Glancy and McMillan.

It was almost a battle of a century when these two amateurs staged a boxing match before some 2,000 onlookers assembled at St. Petersburg, Fla. Over the protests of physicians they traded jabs and uppercuts for four furious rounds. The match was called a draw.

A split season has been agreed upon with the second half to start when the new clubs get into action within the next few days. Grant announced.

Tentative plans call for Kansas City opening at Tulsa next Saturday or Sunday and for Tulsa to play at Wichita the following Tuesday and Wednesday. The Duluth players, disgruntled because of non-payment of salaries, assured Grant that they would be willing to play for a percentage of the receipts if transferred to Wichita.

Two Couples Finish With Scores of 65 in Pro-amateur Event at Long Beach

Long Beach, Cal. Jan. 18.—Playing over a rain-drenched course, Charles Guest, Deah, N.J., professional, his partner, Curtis Williams, Long Beach, and the Coleman brothers, Fay and Lester, Culver City, Cal., yesterday won the $300 Long Beach pro-amateur tournament with best ball scores of 65.

Par for the municipal course was 71. Guest and Williams were three under par in going out in 32, and required a stroke more than that figure on the home nine. The Coleman brothers were four under par on the outward round, but the longer inward stretch gave them trouble and they were unsteady on the greens.

Willie Hunter and E. R. Maule, Los Angeles, with 32-33, Phil Jeffries, Los Angeles, and Paul Rooney, Santa Monica, with 34-32; Al Espinosa, Akron, Ohio, and J. H. Rothwell, Long Beach, 32-34, and Norrie Dutra and Alex. Macphay, Detroit, 31-35, were tied with 66's.

Battaglia Given High Ranking In Listing For World

Winnipeg Fighter Third Among Those Who Have Shown the Most Promise

BAER PLACED AT HEAD OF GROUP

Jimmy McLarnin, Vancouver, Is Ranked Third Behind Fields and Corbett

New York, Jan. 18.—Frankie Battaglia, bruising hitter from Winnipeg, is rated highly in the seventh annual ranking of the world professional boxers by The Ring, boxing magazine.

The Canadian is placed third in its list of the eight men who have shown the most promise for the future.

Max Baer, California heavyweight, is placed at the top with Adolf Heuser, light heavyweight, in second place. After the Winnipeg youth follows Lou Brouillard, welterweight; Barney Ross, lightweight; Ruby Arizmendi, featherweight; Speedy Dado, bantamweight, and Little Pancho, flyweight.

The ring also places Battaglia at the top in the second middleweight bracket, while Ben Jeby, New York

Hebrew, who defeated him here last Friday for New York State recognition as world's champion, is placed down in fifth position. Marcel Thil, France, leads group one.

The Ring places Jack Sharkey above Max Schmeling, who won the heavyweight title on a foul and lost it again on a close fifteen-round decision last summer.

HEAVYWEIGHT LIST

Sharkey and Schmeling rate one-two in the first division of the heavyweights—with Baer, who tackles the German under the promotion of Jack Dempsey this summer, topping group two.

Maxie Rosenbloom heads group one of the light-heavyweights. Tony Canzoneri is placed in a class by himself in group one of the lightweights and Panama Al Brown in the first group of bantamweights.

Another Canadian, Jimmy McLarnin, belting Irishman from Vancouver, is rated highly in the welterweight division, being placed third closely behind Jackie Fields and Young Corbett in group one.

Two Britons are given high recognition. Both are from Manchester, England. Mickey McGuire is placed at the top of the second group of flyweights and Jackie Brown is ranked a close second to Midget Wolgast in group one.

Kid Chocolate heads the featherweights—with Fidel La Barba second.

first-period tally. Red Beattie and Dick Clapper were the other scorers. Maroons were not as outclassed as the score indicated. Hooley Smith played in sensational fashion throughout and was robbed of at least three goals by Tiny Thompson's crack work in the Bruin net. He supplied the pressure that opened the way for Earl Robinson's unassisted tally in the second period and aided Glen Brydson to register the final Montreal tally in the third.

New York, Jan. 18.—New York Americans continued their remarkable progress through the Canadian division of the National Hockey League yesterday by defeating Toronto Maple Leafs, sectional leaders, 3 to 1. The victory, which ran the Leafs string to eight games without a loss, reduced Toronto's margin to five points.

Bill Brydson, veteran defenseman, took a hand in the attack, engineering the two goals in the second period that decided the game. The first brought strenuous protests from the Leafs as Bill Phillips's poke on the rebound of two shots that Brydson took barely carried the puck into the net. The second came on a perfect pass to George Patterson after Brydson had stolen the puck away from a Leaf attack.

Nick Wasnie scored the third goal of the fast, hard game on a long shot in the middle of the third period, breaking loose when the Leafs were attacking with five men. Toronto's furious efforts to score finally bore fruit less than five minutes from the end when Bushy Jackson slammed one past Goalie Roy Worters on assists from Andy Blair and Ken Doraty.

SUMMARY

First period—No score. Second period—1, Americans, Phillips (Brydson), 4:31; 2, Americans, Patterson (Brydson), 6:09. Penalties: Horner (2), Dutton. Third period—3, Americans, Wasnie, 12:41; 4, Toronto, H. Jackson (Blair-Doraty), 15:42.

What Are College Girls' Chances of Marrying?

Dorothy Dix

Holds Out Slim Hopes

A College Degree Cuts a Girl's Matrimonial Chances in Half, Since Most Men Want to Be More Intelligent Than Their Wives, and but Few Realize That the Better Mind a Woman Has, the Better Wife She Makes

RECENTLY compiled statistics show that a college degree decreases a girl's chance of marrying by half, and that if she has an A.M. from a particularly high-browed institution of learning the likelihood of her ever being married is even slimmer. Even going to a coeducational college doesn't take the curse off the higher education for women, apparently, as they turn out from 40 to 48 per cent old maids.

Now college girls are taking them, and large, quite as good looking, quite as pretty and a shade above the intelligence of the average run of femininity, hence a preferred risk in matrimony. Moreover, dames are dames, as the slang phrase goes, and every normal woman desires to marry. So this raises the interesting question of why a superior education should be a matrimonial handicap to a girl.

The most obvious answer is because women always want to marry their superiors, while men want to marry their inferiors. A woman always wants to look up to her husband, while a man enjoys looking down on his wife. A highly educated woman wants to marry a man who is even more cultured than she is, but a man wants to marry a woman who doesn't know nearly so much as he does and who will regard him as an oracle.

In a word, education makes a woman choosy. She gets picky about a man's grammar and pronunciation. She wants a husband who can wander with her through the flowery paths of literature and discuss the whatness of what, and so she turns up her nose and down the fine young chap who is a go-getter and has plenty of native intelligence, but who thinks that Browning is Peaches' grandfather and that a primitive is a year-before-last model automobile.

Of course, the college girl wants to mate with the college man, but, alas, her sentimental hopes are dashed by disappointment, for as a rule the college men marry the dumb Doras, or at least, dumbish ones. I once heard an exceedingly clever man say to a brilliant woman:

"You are stimulating and fascinating as a companion and there is nothing I enjoy more than a conversation with you now and then, but I wouldn't be married to you for anything on earth, because I don't want to have to be at my best when I'm at home. I want to slump mentally and physically. I don't want to have to have intelligent opinions on philosophical subjects or to have to hold my own in a political debate with a woman who has the political situation at her fingers' end. I don't want to have to think up wisecracks. I just want to grunt and say uh-huh while my wife babbles on about the baby cutting a new tooth and the Jones' girl getting engaged and Mrs. Smith's new dress and the price of lamb chops. I get all the matching of brains with others that I want outside of my home."

Without doubt many men have as little relish for home-brewed intellectual stimulus as they have for home-brewed drinks. They prefer to get both abroad. And they actually prefer wives whose reading never goes further than from the cook-book to the baby-book and the society and fashion notes in the daily paper. An intelligent woman is mortified to death when her husband cannot hold his own with other men in conversation and expresses ignorant and asinine opinions, but a man apparently never notices his morose wife's blunders and therein lies one of the fundamental differences between the sexes that nobody can explain.

Another reason why women's colleges are spinster factories, as someone has said, is that they keep a girl in school during the years in which she is most marriage-minded and most attractive to men. In the exclusively feminine institutions of learning she is virtually shut away from contact with men and thus quarantined, as it were, against wedlock.

Nor, matrimonially speaking, does she fare much better in the co-educational institutions for, although she is surrounded by boys, few of them have the price of a wedding ring, and if she commits herself to the folly of a long engagement, waiting until some youth can finish his education and go out into the world and earn enough to support a wife, she had almost as well reserve her place in the Old Maids Home, for few men ever return to marry their schoolboy sweethearts.

Still another reason why the college girl so often fails to marry is because her technique in husband-hunting is so poor. She may understand higher mathematics, but she doesn't understand men. She may speak Latin and Greek, but she doesn't speak soft talk. She appeals to a man's head instead of his heart. She aspires to being his intellectual companion instead of his sweetie. She wants to discuss the Einstein Theory with him instead of telling him how big and strong and wonderful he is. She despises the ancient feminine wiles of blandishment and flattery, not realizing that the combined wisdom of all the women of all the ages has gone into working out an unbeatable system of toiling men to the altar.

But in the final analysis the reason that college girls do not marry as early and often as the common, or garden, variety of flappers is because men do not ask them to. And this is because men have a traditional fear of blue stockings that no association with perfectly harmless girls with college degrees has ever dissipated. And because a man's vanity makes him always want his wife to regard him as a Solomon who knows it all, and who asks him what he thinks she thinks. And because men have an idea that they can manage a nitwit easier than they can a highbrow and because they are under the delusion that a woman who does not know anything else necessarily is domestic.

IN ALL of which theories they are sadly mistaken. But it keeps men marrying fools who bore them to death, who have the stubbornness and unreason of fools, who bear dull children, who are slaphop housekeepers and poisonous cooks, because they lack the intelligence to do their job well.

Some day, perhaps, men will find out that the more intelligent a woman is, the better wife she makes. And then the college girls will have the pick of the lot.

Horoscope

THURSDAY, JANUARY 18, 1933

Adverse planetary aspects are strong today, according to astrology. It is well to use the utmost care in whatever has any possibility of danger.

This may be a most unlucky day under which to interview any one in a position of authority. Those who seek employment should better direct their efforts to other sources.

It is not a favorable direction of the stars for the payment of political debts. Aspirants to salaried positions may be exceedingly difficult to obtain.

There is a sign read as presaging an overturning of precedent in the awarding of federal offices. Then influence is to count under this way.

The stars are read as foreshadowing a demand for super-steps on the part of all who would serve the nation or transact the nation's business.

This trend toward expert training is to be discovered in even the humblest callings, and success will belong more than ever to the men and women best trained and best fitted for special tasks.

Women should benefit while this rule prevails, for it encourages the pursuit of the arts and the employment of special talents.

This is supposed to be a very lucky wedding day, since it seems to promise lasting love and respect. Although there may not be the attainment of wealth a fair degree of prosperity is indicated.

All who pursue the merchandise that makes strangers turn to women should profit at this time when jewelers as well as farmers and modelers should sell more.

Theaters have rather a beneficent aspect to rule them. Many noble experiments will be made in the production of plays and a few will be successful.

Dance for amusement will be strong under this planetary government. It is foretold, and formal entertainments will with less dignified functions.

Children born on this day probably will be gifted and determined and individual. Many subjects of this sign succeed through rare intelligence.

Persons whose birthdate it is have the augury of a year of more or less anxiety in which friends will be helpful.

Edgar Allan Poe, famous American poet, was born on this day, 1809. Others who have celebrated it as a birthday include James Watt, 1736, noted inventor.

Aviator Tells Of Experiences

The Pas, Man., Jan. 18.—For nine days after he was forced down, Pilot Jeff Home-Hay lived on short rations in a deserted prospectors' cabin near Oxford Lake before being rescued by fellow aviators. It was learned on his arrival here yesterday.

In his search for food, Home-Hay managed to catch two fish and share two rabbits in backwoods fashion. For those nine days he lived on these and his scanty emergency rations.

He then left the cabin and found a shack occupied by an Indian family. In addition to the adults there were six children all in the one small shack. They, too, were on starvation rations, but a smoke was killed a few days later, and there was plenty for all. It was there that Pilot J. Campbell and his mechanic, Ed Godfrey, both of Saskatoon, found the missing aviator last Sunday.

Campbell and Godfrey reached their objective only after bucking nasty weather which forced their machine down twice.
